Roles of Safeguarding Personnel in Relation to this Standard

Church authority

The role of the Church authority across all the seven standards is outlined in Appendix A.

In relation to Standard 1, the Church authority is responsible for:

- Appointing a safeguarding committee, and, along with that committee, ensuring that local safeguarding representatives (LSRs) are in place across the Church body;
- Ensuring, with parish priests or local superiors, that all those who are recruited as Church personnel are suitable and appropriate for their role;
- Ensuring compliance with civil law and policy in creating and maintaining safe environments, and regarding areas such as vetting, safe recruitment, adult-to-child ratios, codes of conduct and risk assessment.

Safeguarding committee

The role of the safeguarding committee across Standards 1, 5, 6 and 7 is outlined in Appendix A.

In relation to Standard 1, the safeguarding committee is responsible for:

- Producing a three-year plan for how to implement and maintain Standards 1, 5, 6 and 7 across the Church body. This includes the development of procedures and practice around creating and maintaining safe environments;
- Liaising with the local safeguarding representatives to identify areas where guidance and support on policy or practice is needed;
- Ensuring that records for activities related to child safeguarding are produced and stored appropriately (See Appendix B).

Local safeguarding representative

The role of the LSR across Standards 1, 5, 6 and 7 is outlined in Appendix A.

In relation to Standard 1, the LSR is responsible for:

- Checking and providing advice and support so that all Church activities are being carried out in line with the safeguarding policies and procedures of the Church body;
- Liaising with the child safeguarding committee (and the local safeguarding council, if applicable) around areas where further child safeguarding advice and support are required.

Local safeguarding councils

In some parts of the Church, local child safeguarding councils or parish child safeguarding committees operate at a local level to provide child safeguarding advice and support to the parish priest or local superior. These councils usually comprise the LSRs, members of the parish or provincial council, and any other person whom the parish priest or local superior wishes to appoint.

As part of the role outlined in Appendix A, the local safeguarding council can be responsible for:

- Supporting the recruitment of new volunteers;
- Ensuring that issues relating to local practice are raised and resolved with the parish priest or local superior and the child safeguarding committee.

Storage and Retention of Records Associated with this Standard

The table below lists the types of records that need to be stored appropriately and securely as part of this standard, in accordance with best practice in record-keeping (see Appendix B). The templates for the production of each record, which have been included in the guidance for this standard, are listed in the final column.

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.1

1.1A Guidance on Safe Recruitment Procedures

The Church authority acknowledges that safe care starts with the appointment of suitably qualified, skilled and vetted personnel who have the desired competencies and skills to carry out their function in an effective, efficient and safe manner. Whoever is employed by the Church, either in a pastoral or voluntary role, must be recruited safely and deemed suitable for the role that they are being asked to undertake.

Safe recruitment means that the Church authority will ensure that:

- All reasonable steps are taken to ensure that the Church eliminates applicants who might pose a risk to children;
- Those engaged in the recruitment process are suitably trained and experienced to undertake this task;
- The Church's recruitment procedures are transparent, adhere to best practice and comply with the rules of natural justice, appropriate record-keeping and human resource management;
- The Church is committed to the policy of inclusion and equality.

Appointment procedures (clerics/religious)

For clerics/religious who are part of the Church body in which they are ministering, the following procedure must be completed. All priests and religious should have gone through a formation programme that should include safeguarding children. In addition to this, the Church authority must ensure the following takes place prior to any appointment:

- Ensuring the cleric or religious signs the agreement form to following the Church's policy and child safeguarding standards;
- Requiring the cleric/religious to sign a declaration form stating that there is no reason why they would be considered unsuitable to work with children (1.1A Template 3);
- Requiring the cleric/religious to undergo relevant vetting/clearance procedures (Guidance 1.1B);
- Ensuring the volunteer is inducted in the Church's child safeguarding policy (Guidance 5.1A) and that they agree to follow the policy and the procedures of their Church body by signing an agreement form (5.1A Template 1);
- Ensuring the volunteer agrees to work within the Church body's code of behaviour (Guidance 1.2A);
- Ensuring that the cleric/religious attends training, in particular child safeguarding training detailed under Standard 5: Training and Support for Keeping Children Safe.

If a cleric or religious is not part of the Church body and applies for a voluntary or paid role within the Church body, they must follow the recruitment procedures for paid or voluntary staff. If the cleric or religious is visiting the Church body and is seeking to minister, the procedures outlined in Guidance 1.1C must be followed.

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.1

Recruitment procedures (paid staff)

The following procedures apply to the process of all appointments. It should be noted that these procedures do not affect the applicant's rights under the relevant employment legislation.

- Use a recruitment and selection checklist to ensure that effective practices are followed (1.1A Template 1).
- Use an application form, including reference requests (1.1A Template 2).
- Interview applicants to discuss their application form. This interview will include applicants being advised of their responsibilities towards children, and assessment of their suitability will include an awareness of child protection and safe care practices.
- Interview boards will be comprised of experienced and qualified personnel with a proven ability to draw out and explore the information that the candidate has included on their application form.
- All paperwork associated with the application process should be kept in accordance with record storage policy (Appendix B). All references, reports and communications in respect of the applicant should be in writing, and access to them will only be available to appropriate personnel within the Church. Candidates will be advised that their application and the follow-up process of recruitment will be dealt with in the strictest confidence.
- The successful applicant will be offered a position subject to:
 - a. Suitable references (1.1A Template 4);
 - b. Signing a declaration form (1.1A Template 3);
 - c. Proof of qualifications, where applicable;
 - d. Relevant vetting/clearance procedures (Guidance 1.1B);
 - e. Positive proof of identification.
- It should be noted that any lay person who is coming to work or volunteer in Ireland, who worked or volunteered in another country for more than one year, must provide a certificate of police clearance from the country or countries in which they have lived for a year or more, prior to coming to Ireland. Advice and support in obtaining a police clearance certificate can be found at www.fingerscan.ca and also at www.coru.ie/en/registration/police_clearance.

Once appointed, the following elements are critical:

- Ensure probationary periods are served, where appropriate;
- Ensure that the member of Church personnel is inducted in the Church's child safeguarding policy (Guidance 5.1A) and that they agree to follow the policy and the procedures of their Church body by signing an agreement form (5.1A Template 1);
- Ensure professional support, supervision and appraisals are offered to Church personnel, where appropriate (Guidance 5.6A);
- Provide ongoing training to Church personnel, in particular child safeguarding training detailed under Standard 5: Training and Support for Keeping Children Safe.

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.1

Recruitment procedures (volunteers)

Reasonable steps should be taken to ensure that all volunteers who work with children in the Church are assessed as 'safe'. This includes conducting the following procedures for all volunteers:

- Vetting through the Garda Vetting Bureau/AccessNI (Guidance 1.1B) if required. It should be noted that any lay person who is coming to work or volunteer in Ireland, who worked or volunteered in another country for more than one year, must provide a certificate of police clearance from the country or countries in which they have lived for a year or more, prior to coming to Ireland. Advice and support in obtaining a police clearance certificate can be found at www.fingerscan.ca and also at www.coru.ie/en/registration/police_clearance;
- If the volunteer does not meet the requirement for vetting then the volunteer must sign a declaration form stating that there is no reason why they would be considered unsuitable to work with children (1.1A Template 3);
- Ensuring the volunteer is inducted in the Church's child safeguarding policy (Guidance 5.1A) and that they agree to follow the policy and the procedures of their Church body by signing an agreement form (5.1A Template 1);
- Ensuring the volunteer agrees to work within the Church body's code of behaviour (Guidance 1.2A);
- Ensuring the volunteer agrees to report all safeguarding concerns to the DLP of the Church body (Guidance 2.1A).
- Considering whether to ask the volunteer to complete an adapted version of the application form (1.1A Template 2) if it is relevant to the role.

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.1

1.1B Guidance on Vetting

1. The Catholic Church's standards and expectations

It is essential that those people who work in any capacity with children² are, as far as possible, assessed to ensure that they do not present a risk to children. Standard 1 provides the required standard of practice in relation to recruitment and selection. It also provides a checklist for engaging proper procedures when taking on staff and volunteers who will be working with children.

One part of the recruitment process is to screen applicants against police criminal conviction and caution records. This screening process – called vetting – includes a check against relevant police-held conviction and non-conviction information, against UK lists of individuals who have been barred from working with children and/or vulnerable adults,³ and, in the Republic of Ireland, against An Garda Síochána records.

This document sets out the relevant legislation, and it provides guidance on who should be vetted and on the procedures that apply in both the Republic of Ireland and in Northern Ireland.

2. Vetting in the Republic of Ireland (ROI)

2.1 Legislative basis

In the ROI, vetting is carried out through the National Vetting Bureau under the National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Acts 2012 to 2016. From the date of commencement of the legislation on 29 April 2016, it is a criminal offence to allow anyone to engage in ministry with children or vulnerable adults, without having them vetted first.

In addition, Section 26 of the Sex Offenders Act 2001 means that it is a criminal offence for some people who are guilty of certain criminal offences to fail to notify their employers of this fact before taking a job or performing a service. It is a requirement under this legislation for a prospective employee or volunteer to inform the employer of offences committed in Ireland and abroad.

Section 26 of the Sex Offenders Act 2001 makes it an offence for a person to:

- a. Apply to be employed to do relevant work;
- b. Enter into a contract of employment to do relevant work;
- c. Apply to another person to do relevant work on that other person's behalf (either paid or voluntary);
- d. Enter into a contract of services to do relevant work without, during the course of the application or before entering into the contract, informing the other person or party that they have been convicted of a sexual offence.

² A child is defined as anyone under eighteen years.

³ Any work or activity that is carried out by a person, a necessary and regular part of which consists mainly of the person having access to, or contact with, children (and/or vulnerable adults).

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.1

The 2012 National Vetting Bureau Act (as amended in the Criminal Justice [Spent Convictions and Certain Disclosures] Act 2016) sets out circumstances that require vetting, defined as:

Any work or activity which is carried out by a person, a necessary and regular part of which consists mainly of the person having access to, or contact with, children (and/or vulnerable adults).

Good safeguarding practice means that, as far as possible, management and supervision arrangements are such that substantial, unsupervised access to children is limited.

Under Schedule 1, Part 1, Paragraph 7, of the National Vetting Bureau Act (as amended by paragraph 27 of the Criminal Justice [Spent Convictions and Certain Disclosures Act] 2016) also requires:

Vetting in respect of any work or activity as a minister or priest or any other person engaged in the advancement of religious beliefs, to children (and vulnerable adults) unless such work or activity is merely incidental to the advancement of religious beliefs to persons who are not children (or vulnerable adults).

Section 13(6) of the Act provides for vetting of persons under 18 years of age. The Act states that if a person in respect of whom an application for a vetting disclosure is made is under 18 years of age, a declaration of consent is completed on his or her behalf by a parent/guardian of the young person.

In other words, anyone who is 18 or over and has any contact with children (and vulnerable adults) which is more than incidental as part of their ministry must be vetted. Those who are aged under 18 may be vetted, but this can only be carried out with the written consent of their parent/guardian and the young person themselves.

For Church bodies who are active in both Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland, they must ensure that Church personnel who meet the legislative requirements in each jurisdiction and are active in both jurisdictions are vetted both in the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland.

For other Church personnel who may come into contact but who do not work directly with children (or vulnerable adults) in the Church, vetting is not required.

2.2 The legislation provides relevant definitions

Harm, in relation to a person, means exploitation or abuse, whether physical, sexual or emotional;

Relevant organisation means a person (including a body corporate or an unincorporated body of persons).

So, for the purposes of the Act, the Catholic Church and all of its subdivisions is deemed to be a relevant organisation that:

- I. employs (whether under contract of employment or otherwise) any person to undertake relevant work or activities;
- II. enters into a contract for services with any person for the provision by that person of services that constitute relevant work or activities;
- III. permits any person (whether or not for commercial or any other consideration) to

STANDARD 1

undertake relevant work or activities on the person's behalf;

- IV. is a provider of courses of education or training, including internship schemes, for persons and, as part of such education or training or scheme, places or makes arrangements for the placement of any person in work experience or activities where a necessary part of the placement involves participation in relevant work or activities, but does not include an individual who does any of the matters referred to in sub-paragraphs (i) to (iv) in the course of a private arrangement.

Relevant work or activities relating to children⁴ means any work or activity that is carried out by a person, a necessary and regular part of which consists mainly of the person having access to, or contact with, children in:

A person who performs any of the matters listed in paragraphs (a) to (d) above without a vetting disclosure from the bureau shall be guilty of an offence.

2.4 Reporting information to the National Vetting Bureau according to the Act (Section 2)

The Church is not defined as a scheduled organisation according to the Act (Section 2), and is therefore not required to report specified information to the National Vetting Bureau. However, information about a member of the Church may be reported to the bureau.

A scheduled organisation has a duty to notify the bureau in writing, where, following an investigation, inquiry or regulatory process, there is a bona fide concern that the person, may:

- a. harm any child or vulnerable person;

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.1

- b. cause any child or vulnerable person to be harmed;
- c. put any child or vulnerable person at risk of harm;
- d. attempt to harm any child or vulnerable person;
- e. incite another person to harm any child or vulnerable person.

If any specified information furnished by a scheduled organisation to the bureau is incorrect or is otherwise inaccurate, the scheduled organisation will, as soon as may be, after becoming aware of its being incorrect or inaccurate, as the case may be, inform the bureau thereof.

2.5 Catholic Church requirements

The Church body is required to register with the National Vetting Bureau (if not previously registered with the Garda Vetting Unit) and appoint an authorised liaison person, who will be registered by the bureau. It will be the responsibility of the liaison person to ensure that vetting application forms are completed accurately and in full.

For any Church body not already registered, discussions should take place with the host diocese or with the Association of Missionaries and Religious of Ireland (AMRI) to become affiliated under their liaison person, who may act as an 'umbrella body' for registration with the Garda Vetting Bureau. Registration and vetting checks can now be carried out online and for more information follow this link <https://vetting.garda.ie>.

Vetting is carried out in the Republic of Ireland if a member of Church personnel engages in any work or activity, a necessary and regular part of which consists mainly of the person having access to, or contact with children or vulnerable persons. Details of relevant work or activities (Section 2.2) are outlined in part 1 and 2 of Schedule 1 of the National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Acts 2012 to 2016.

The form that is completed by the applicant gives permission for a vetting disclosure to be obtained and shared with the relevant personnel within the Church body, in line with data protection legislation. The applicant must give their permission for information to be shared with named relevant people (i.e. the employer and the DLP). The application must identify the relevant work to which the application relates, and must be specific about access to children being a necessary and regular component of the role.

Under Section 13 (2) of National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Act 2012:

'A relevant organisation may submit an application for vetting disclosure under this section on its own behalf or on behalf of another relevant organisation that the organisation represents for the purposes of the vetting procedures under this Act and, where a relevant organisation submits an application on behalf of another relevant organisation, it shall inform the Bureau of that and provide it with the particulars referred to in Section 8 (5).'

In these circumstances, it is recommended that a Service Level Agreement (1.1B Template 1) is developed between the organisations or Church bodies which sets out the sharing of the disclosure. It must be understood that sharing of such information can only be done with the permission of the subject of the disclosure

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.1

National Bureau vetting is one method of ensuring that those people about whom there are concerns of a relevant nature are not engaged to work with children. The vetting return must be assessed by the employing person (parish priest, chair of board of management, etc.) to ensure that risk is minimised. Personnel accessing vetting disclosures must also observe confidentiality and must be made aware of the consequences of a breach of confidentiality.

If the vetting disclosure contains information that might mean an applicant is unsuitable for the post, the employer must make a copy of the disclosure available to the applicant to establish first that the identity details are correct, and second, whether the information shared means that the application must not proceed.

If the applicant wishes to appeal the decision, the Church body must set up a review panel meeting (see Section 7 on appeals).

3. Vetting in Northern Ireland (pre-employment)

3.1 Legislative basis

The Police Act 1997 (Criminal Records) (Disclosure) is the legislation that allows for an enhanced criminal record check for those engaged in regulated activities with children and vulnerable adults.

The Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Northern Ireland) Order 2007 sets out the activities and work that are 'regulated activities', which a person who has been barred by the Disclosure and Barring Service must not do.

Vetting is carried out in Northern Ireland if a member of Church personnel engages in a regulated activity (Section 3.2). An enhanced check can disclose non-conviction information or 'soft intelligence' if the police consider it is relevant to the role. This could be an incident that did not go to court, or information about an ongoing police investigation.

An enhanced check also includes a barred list check for anyone applying to do paid or voluntary work that is a regulated activity. A barred list check involves checking whether the individual is part of barred lists of people who are prevented from doing certain types of work.

3.2 Definitions

A child is defined by the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Order (SVGO) as anyone who has not attained the age of eighteen years.

The full, legal definition of regulated activity is set out in Schedule 2 of the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Northern Ireland) Order 2007, as amended (in particular, by the Protection of Freedoms Act 2012).

Regulated activity excludes family arrangements, and personal, non-commercial arrangements.

Regulated activity relating to children

The amended definition of regulated activity comprises:

- I. Activities such as teaching, training, instructing, caring for or supervising children, or providing advice/guidance on well-being, or driving a vehicle only for children;
- II. Work for a limited range of establishments ('specified places'), with opportunity for contact:

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.1

e.g. schools, children's homes, childcare premises, a children's hospital. Work under (I) or (II) is regulated activity only if done regularly.

- III. Relevant personal care, e.g. washing or dressing; or healthcare by, or supervised by, a professional;
- IV. Registered childminding and foster care.

3.3 Catholic Church requirements

In relation to the Church, those who work (paid or unpaid) in a regulated activity will require vetting. Legislation allows for the Church to carry out vetting checks for those who are in day-to-day line management of those in regulated activities, and who must also be vetted.

As the definition of regulated activity has recently changed, it is current practice within the Church that those falling under the previous definition of regulated activity, who are not included in the new definition listed above, still require vetting. However, the vetting enhanced check will not include the barred list element.

The bishops of Northern Ireland have established a Central Northern Dioceses Vetting Office, which processes all vetting applications to Access NI. The vetting officer acts as the authorised signatory, and makes decisions about fitness for roles based on the returned disclosure. An application is completed by the local safeguarding representative and forwarded to the Central Northern Dioceses Vetting Office for processing. As the requirements in vetting have been amended, staff in the vetting office can provide advice and support in deciding which check is required for Church personnel.

For religious orders, consultation should take place with the Central Northern Dioceses Vetting Office around requirement to vet and the processing of applications.

For Church bodies who are active in both Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland, they must ensure that Church personnel who meet the legislative requirements in each jurisdiction and are active in both jurisdictions are vetted both in the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland.

3.4 How to apply for a vetting check

For a detailed guide and further information on how to apply for a vetting check, please contact the Northern Vetting Office by emailing vetting@soddc.org or calling 00442890492783.

4. Re-Vetting

It is recommended that applicants be re-vetted at least every three years.

5. Storage and retention of records

The Church body is responsible for appointing a data protection officer to ensure that all records are retained, stored and destroyed appropriately (see Appendix B). Consideration should be given to the storage of application forms, references and any other records of vetting checks that have been carried out in line with data protection legislation. All records should be retained at least for the length of involvement of the applicant, or until they are re-vetted. Thereafter all documentation gathered during the vetting process (for example identity check) should be returned to the applicant or destroyed. A record that a vetting check has been carried out should be retained in line with data protection legislation (Appendix B).

In ROI, the retention of documents is a requirement of the National Vetting Bureau. This requirement is made to assist the National Vetting Bureau with its functions and to ensure compliance with the statutory process of vetting. Advice from the Vetting Bureau is that all data relating to the process should be retained until the individual concerned leaves the Church body in one way or another or is re-vetted for their continuing employment pursuant to the Church bodies re-vetting procedure. All vetting records should be stored securely in line with the Church bodies recording and storage of records procedures.

In Northern Ireland, the Vetting Disclosure Certificate is forwarded by Access NI directly to the applicant. The applicant may decide to share the content of the Vetting Disclosure Certificate with the authorised signatory. The authorised signatory retains a record of the reference number and the date when the Vetting Disclosure Certificate was presented. The only exclusion is if the applicant appeals the decision of the authorised signatory (see Section 6 on appeals, on the next page). In this instance the record should be retained for three months, following completion of the appeal process.

6. Assessing the suitability of an applicant following receipt of a vetting disclosure

It must be emphasised that vetting is a small part of a recruitment process and that all other aspects must be part of the overall assessment of suitability of an applicant. The information below sets out the possible responses following receipt of a vetting disclosure.

Legislation in both jurisdictions (Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland) requires the Church body to carry out vetting checks with the relevant body (Access NI or Garda Vetting Bureau) prior to allowing a person to work with children (and/or vulnerable adults).

1.Application stage

It is essential that all conviction and caution information is shared on the vetting application form; failure to do so following any disclosure by the relevant vetting office may exclude the applicant from the role.

2.Disclosure – nothing of concern

If the vetting disclosure does not reveal any soft information, cautions or convictions the applicant, on the basis of vetting can be deemed suitable for working with children (and/or vulnerable adults); however all other aspects of the recruitment process must also be considered (Guidance 1.1A).

3.Disclosure – Information not relating to child (vulnerable adult abuse)

If the vetting disclosure reveals information of a caution or conviction (not of a child or vulnerable adult abuse nature) this must be assessed in line with the requirements of the ministry or work applied for. Issues that should be considered include:

- Was the caution or conviction disclosed by the applicant?
- Is the caution or conviction relevant to the work with children? e.g. if there is a motoring offence and the role does not involve the use of a vehicle is it relevant?
- Is the caution or conviction relating to an offence of theft or dishonesty – while this may not

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.1

appear relevant to the role with children it may reflect an applicant's character

4. Disclosure – Information relating to child (vulnerable adult) abuse

If the vetting disclosure reveals information which includes soft information relating to child or vulnerable adult abuse, careful consideration should be given whether it is appropriate to engaging the applicant in ministry or work with children and or vulnerable adults.

Remember caution or conviction relating to domestic violence is relevant

If the vetting disclosure reveals information of a conviction for abuse of a child or vulnerable adult, the applicant should not be engaged to minister or work with children or vulnerable adults.

7. Appeals

It must be noted that any appeal can only be made in relation to the Church decision not to employ the candidate (paid or voluntary), on the grounds that they are not suitable to work with children. The Church has no role in reviewing the contents of the disclosure by the National Vetting Bureau or Access NI. If there is a disagreement about the disclosure, the applicant must appeal directly to the National Vetting Bureau or Access NI.

The employer will assess the information returned from AccessNI or the National Vetting Bureau and decide if there is any reason not to employ the applicant, from a criminal information or specified information perspective. The applicant will be informed that their application cannot proceed based on the information returned through the vetting process.

If the applicant wishes to appeal the Church decision, they should be informed in writing about the process of an appeal.

An appeals panel will be established by the Church authority to hear the appeal. The Church authority will determine if the final decision regarding the appeal rests with the appeals panel or is deferred to the Church authority for a final decision.

The National Vetting Bureau (Children and Vulnerable Persons) Act 2012 states that the information contained in the vetting disclosure made to the organisation shall not be used or disclosed by the relevant organisation other than in accordance with the Act. Any breach of this requirement is an offence. Therefore, prior to engaging in any appeals process, legal advice may be sought.

An applicant will be told that the appeal process will require that information disclosed to either Access NI or the National Vetting Bureau can be shared with the panel members, and that any representations made by him/her may be shared with the statutory authorities. Any detail provided, for example to explain the background to a conviction, will be shared with Access NI or the National Vetting Bureau to ensure it is a realistic representation of the facts.

Representation from the applicant will be requested in writing to offer them the opportunity to explain any circumstances in relation to the information received that might further inform the appeals panel. The panel may permit an oral hearing if it is deemed necessary for the fair and just disposition of the appeal.

The role of the appeals panel is to decide if the original decision was unreasonable or irrational. In the first instance, the panel will communicate its recommendation to the Church authority. The Church authority should take cognisance of the advice of the appeals panel. The applicant will then be informed in writing of the final decision following a review by the Church authority, based on the advice of the appeals panel.

7.2 Constitution of panel

The Church authority will appoint an appeals panel. The following people should be considered as appropriate members of the panel:

- Chair of the safeguarding committee;
- Priest or religious;
- Lay person with child protection experience.

Advice can be sought from the following: a representative from HR (if the Church body has one); a civil law solicitor; a canon lawyer; and/or an employment lawyer.

7.3 Role of panel

- To receive and hear requests for review of decisions not to appoint on the basis of information received through the vetting process:
 - To review the written information provided by the applicant, and to receive oral evidence from the applicant and relevant Church personnel, if deemed appropriate;
- To make a judgement regarding whether the decision not to employ was reasonable:
 - Was the decision to refuse based on a potential risk to children?
 - Was the relevance of the specific role taken into consideration?
- If its determined that the final decision regarding the appeal rests with the Church authority, the Appeals Panel must report its recommendation to the Church authority for consideration.

7.4 Time frame

- An appeal must be lodged with the employer within twenty-eight days of being informed of the decision not to appoint. The applicant will be asked to provide written representation within fourteen days of receipt of correspondence requesting this. Failure to provide this information within the time frame suggested, or failure to seek an extension, will result in the matter being closed and the original decision standing.
- The appeals panel will aim to review all information within fourteen days of receipt of the same, and communicate its recommendation in writing to the Church authority.
- The Church authority will communicate their decision in writing to the applicant.

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.1

1.1C Guidance on Visiting Clergy or Visiting Persons in Any Form of Consecrated Life Seeking to Minister in the Catholic Church in Ireland

All steps must be taken to ensure a safe and nurturing environment within the Church for children. For that reason, it is important that all those who engage in public ministry require confirmation that they are fit for that sacred task. The safeguarding of children within the Irish Catholic Church is of critical importance.

Whilst lay faithful (including lay ministers) are subject to safe recruitment practice (Guidance 1.1A), all clergy (secular or religious, bishop, priest or deacon) who seek to minister in the Catholic Church in Ireland must be incardinated. This means that he must belong to a diocese (or its equivalent in canon law), a personal prelature (such as Opus Dei), an institute of religious life (such as the Franciscans) or a society that has this faculty (such as the Society of African Missions).

Incardination has three main purposes:

1. It is pastoral; a cleric is ordained for the service of a particular Church to which he belongs;
2. It is an effective structure for maintaining discipline, creating a bond between the cleric and his competent superior;
3. It provides the individual cleric with a guarantee that his rights are protected.

Further to this, the cleric must be in good standing and enjoy the faculties necessary to minister. In law, a faculty is the authority, privilege or permission to perform an act or function, for example, regarding the Sacraments of Penance and Marriage. A cleric receives his faculties from the ordinary of the place where he has domicile; however, each local ordinary is responsible for ensuring that clergy who minister within their territory are in good standing.

The Church authority has a responsibility to take measures to ensure the safety and welfare of children. It is therefore important that certain checks are carried out to ensure that all clergy are in good standing prior to faculties being received.

Procedures for visiting clergy within Ireland

All clergy incardinated into the diocese or religious order will have been Garda/AccessNI vetted as part of safe recruitment (Guidance 1.1A).

Visiting clergy should follow best practice and contact the local parish priest/superior of a religious house before undertaking ministry in that ecclesiastical jurisdiction. If this ministry is considered to be regulated activity, then the guidance regarding the vetting process must be undertaken and a letter of good standing received (1.1C Template 2) from the ordinary of the cleric.

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.1

However, should the cleric be present for one event in a parish or diocese, such as a funeral, baptism or wedding, he should sign the register in the sacristy to declare his presence on a particular time and date. Furthermore, should the priest not be incardinated in the ecclesiastical jurisdiction that he visits, he must provide his celebret for inspection by the parish priest or duly delegated person, and this should be noted beside the visitor's signature in the register.

Procedures to be followed by visiting clergy from outside Ireland⁵ wishing to minister on a short-term basis

When clergy from outside Ireland visit with the intention of being involved in short-term ministry, evidence should be provided that confirms they are priests in good standing and that they are fit for ministry.

Clergy who come from parts of the world where police vetting arrangements are not in existence may seek to minister in Ireland. As a consequence, the statutory route is not always available as a means of confirming that there is no adverse information known about them that would prevent them from carrying out ministry in Ireland.

- a. Prior to visiting Ireland, where there is an intention to engage in public ministry, all visiting priests must write seeking permission of the Church authority, giving details about the duration of the visit, the type of ministry and the location of ministry being considered. The contact details of the Church authority of the visiting priest must be provided in advance;
- b. Upon receipt of a request from visiting clergy to carry out ministry, the Church authority must acknowledge the same, and then make a request in writing to the visitor (1.1C Template 1) for a celebret or confirmation of good standing (1.1C Template 3), signed by their Church authority;
- c. The visiting priest must be asked to complete a declaration of good standing form (1.1C Template 2);
- d. A vetting check must be carried out through the Garda National Vetting Bureau/AccessNI (Guidance 1.1B);
- e. If the Church authority is satisfied that there are no concerns about the visiting religious, permission should be given in writing to the visitor, outlining the specified ministry, including its duration and location (1.1C Template 4);
- f. A copy of this permission (1.1C Template 4) should be forwarded to the parish priest or local superior of the visitor, and also to the parish priest or local superior of the location of the ministry outlined in the letter;
- g. A copy of the permission (1.1C Template 4) should be stored in the offices of the Church authority, in line with confidentiality and storage of information (Appendix B).

⁵ Visiting clergy refers to those seeking to minister on a short-term basis, for a special event, during holidays, or as part of mission/retreat or other pastoral activity.

Procedures to be followed by visiting clergy from outside Ireland wishing to minister at a one-off event

Visiting clergy should follow best practice and contact the local parish priest/superior of a religious house before undertaking ministry in that ecclesiastical jurisdiction. If this ministry is considered to be regulated activity (as defined in Guidance 1.1B), then the guidance regarding the vetting process should be undertaken and a letter of good standing received (1.1C Template 2) from the ordinary of the cleric.

However, should the cleric be present for one event in a parish or diocese, such as a funeral, baptism or wedding, he should sign the register in the sacristy to declare his presence on a particular time and date. Furthermore, should the priest not be incardinated in the ecclesiastical jurisdiction that he visits, he must provide his celebret for inspection by the parish priest or duly delegated person, and this should be noted beside the visitor's signature in the register.

Procedures for visiting persons in any form of consecrated life within and outside Ireland

- a. Prior to their visit, where there is an intention to engage in public ministry, all visiting religious must write seeking permission of the Church authority, giving details about the duration of the visit, the type of ministry and the location of ministry being considered. Contact details of the Church authority of the visiting religious must be provided in advance;
- b. Upon receipt of request from the visiting religious to carry out ministry, the Church authority must acknowledge the same, and then make a request in writing to the visitor (1.1C Template 1) for a confirmation of good standing (1.1C Template 5), signed by their Church authority;
- c. A vetting check must be processed through the Garda National Vetting Bureau/AccessNI (Guidance 1.1B);
- d. If the Church authority is satisfied that there are no concerns about the visiting religious, permission should be given in writing to the visitor, outlining the specified ministry, including its duration and location (1.1C Template 4);
- e. A copy of this permission (1.1C Template 4) should be forwarded to the parish priest or local superior of the visitor, and also to the parish priest or local superior of the location of the ministry outlined in the letter;
- f. A copy of the permission (1.1C Template 4) should be stored in the offices of the Church authority, in line with confidentiality and storage of information (Appendix B).

Procedures for seminarians and pastoral students undertaking pastoral placements as part of their formation

- a. Prior to the placement visit, where there is an intention to engage in public ministry, all seminarians and students must commit to following the policy and standards of Catholic Church Safeguarding Children 2016 (Guidance 5.1A).
- b. The placement organiser must be satisfied that all placements are governed by a child safeguarding policy.

- c. If the placement is outside the Church, all child safeguarding requirements of the organisation within which the placement takes place must be followed. See guidance on cross-referencing safeguarding policies (Guidance 2.1J).
- d. Where the ministry involves regular and necessary contact with children (and /or vulnerable adults) the student/seminarian must be vetted by the placement provider through the Garda National Vetting Bureau/Access NI (Guidance 1.1B).
- e. Any concerns relating to the student/seminarian of a child safeguarding nature whilst on placement must be shared with the Rector/President and processed in line with the Church's reporting procedures (Guidance 2.1A).
- f. Records must be retained which demonstrate that the required checks have taken place and the student/seminarian has agreed to follow the child safeguarding procedures of the Church and the placement provider. A copy of this record should be stored in the offices of the Seminary in line with confidentiality and storage of information (Appendix B).

1.1D Guidance on Visiting Clerics or Visiting Persons in Any Form of Consecrated Life Ministering at Shrines, National Shrines and International Shrines

Definitions

A Shrine is a Catholic church or other sacred place which with the approval of the local ordinary is by reason of special devotion frequented by the faithful as pilgrims (Canon 1230).

To be considered a National Shrine the approval of the National Episcopal Conference is necessary. For it to be described as International, the approval of the Holy See is necessary (Canon 1231).

For Visiting Clerics or those in any form of consecrated life, ministering in Shrines and National Shrines in Ireland

- Prior to the visit, where there is an intention to engage in public ministry, all visiting clerics and those in any form of consecrated life must follow Guidance 1.1C. In particular:
 - If the visiting cleric is ministering at a one-off event which isn't considered a regulated activity (as defined in Guidance 1.1B) the cleric must provide his celebret for inspection by the parish priest or duly delegated person and this should be noted beside the visitor's signature in the register.
 - If the ministry is for a short term basis, the visiting cleric must follow the requirements set out in Guidance 1.1C.
 - If the ministry is being carried out by a non-ordained religious then the guidance outlined in Guidance 1.1C must be followed.

Visiting Clerics celebrating or concelebrating mass at Shrines outside Ireland

- If the Shrine is outside of Ireland all child safeguarding requirements of the organisation within which the ministry takes place must be followed, in accordance with Guidance 2.1J.
- The main celebrant must allocate responsibility for each cleric wishing to concelebrate to have their celebret cards checked to ensure they are in good standing.
- A cleric who is out of ministry due to child safeguarding concerns must not attempt to celebrate any sacrament in public while abroad.

1.1E Guidance on Visiting Lay Ecclesial Ministers

Definition

Lay Ecclesial Ministry is the term adopted to identify the relatively new category of pastoral ministers in the Catholic Church who are not ordained. Lay ecclesial ministers are co-workers with the Church authority alongside priests, non-ordained religious and deacons. In other contexts, these may be known as number of different terms including 'lay pastoral workers' or 'pastoral assistants'.

All lay ecclesial lay ministers are authorised by a Church authority to serve publicly. Some lay ministers are appointed by a Church authority and undergo a period of training for their role, others belong to other Church bodies/ external organisations and minister in a particular area, such as youth ministry

Lay Ministers can perform a variety of roles including chaplaincy work; parish catechesis and other pastoral work as identified by a Church authority.

Formation is determined the Church Authority or leader of the organisation. As yet lay minister do not hold letters of good standing.

When a lay minister either as a sole worker or as part of an organisation moves between Church Bodies, appropriate checks should be conducted to ensure that they do not present a risk to children.

Where there is contact with children the following requirements must be honoured:

Requirements when the lay minister is an individual

The lay minister in this context is considered a member of Church personnel and therefore must be recruited following the safe recruitment guidance including vetting (Guidance 1.1A and Guidance 1.1B).

Requirements when the lay minister is part of another Church body/external organisation

- a. Prior to their ministry the lay minister must seek permission or be invited by the Church authority of the Church body in which they are seeking to minister
- b. The Church authority should require the manager/Church authority of the organisation the lay minister belongs to, to complete 1.1E Template 1.
- c. Upon receipt of 1.1E Template 1, the Church authority should grant or deny the lay minister's request in writing, also notifying their manager/Church authority.
- d. A copy of this permission and 1.1E Template 1 should be stores in the offices of the receiving Church authority in line with confidentiality and storage of information (Appendix B).

Vetting

If the ministry is a 'once off event' (1-3 days) and does not meet the requirements for vetting under the legislation, the completion of 1.1E Template 1 ensures that the visiting lay minister understands the requirements to follow the Church's safeguarding policy and procedures.

If the lay minister is visiting from another organisation/Church body outside of Ireland and they meet the requirements for vetting under the legislation, an agreement must be reached with the receiving Church authority in Ireland as to which body will carry out the relevant vetting check.

1.1G Guidance on Retired Clerics who Seek to Minister and who have no Church Authority in Ireland

A cleric may retire to Ireland following ministry in another jurisdiction where he was incardinated or is a member of a religious order who do not have a presence in Ireland.

Retired clerics who have no public ministry

If a cleric is retired and has no public ministry there are no requirements for him to be vetted, undergo child safeguarding training or sign up to the child safeguarding policy and standards of the Catholic Church.

Retired clerics who have or assist with public ministry

If the retired cleric assists with public ministry, in advance of allowing any ministry the receiving Church authority should follow the visiting priest guidance (Guidance 1.1C) and obtain a reference from the cleric's Church authority to ensure that the cleric is in good standing and that there are no concerns of a child safeguarding nature.

The cleric's Church authority should continue to issue a certificate or letter of good standing annually.

The cleric must agree to follow all safeguarding requirements of the Church body in which he ministers. This includes:

- Vetting
- Agreeing to following the safeguarding policy and standards
- Attending full day awareness training every three years
- Informing the Church authority in Ireland if any concerns, suspicions or allegations are made against him.

1.2A Guidance on Codes of Behaviour for Adults

The recruitment of suitably qualified and experienced personnel is a vital aspect of the Church's child safeguarding policy. However, in order to maintain a high level of child protection awareness and safe care, codes of behaviour are equally important.

A code of behaviour is a clear and concise guide to what is and is not acceptable behaviour and practice when working with children. It is an essential part of the safeguarding procedures of any Church body that has ministry with children. Adults working with children have a duty of care to children. Church personnel who work with children should sign a code of behaviour (if it is not contained in the overall safeguarding policy) to indicate that they have seen the code and agree to follow it in full from commencement of their work within the Church.

It is very important that everyone in the Church authority is clear about what is and is not acceptable behaviour when working with children. It is also important to involve children and parents/guardians in the process of developing a code of behaviour. When considering what sorts of behaviour are appropriate in dealing with children, it is important to bear in mind that the intentions of adults are less important than the impact of their behaviours on children. For this reason, a key aspect of any code of behaviour is the creation of an environment where it is safe for children to ask questions and express their concerns, confident in the knowledge that what they say will be heard, taken seriously and acted upon.

In general, codes of behaviour should contain:

- Positive statements indicating what sorts of behaviours are appropriate, e.g. listening;
- An awareness of the scope of bullying and how to cope with the problem, as it may occur in any group context;
- Prohibitions indicating behaviours that are never acceptable, e.g. hitting a child;
- Good practice guidelines that indicate what is generally acceptable or unacceptable, but that also allow for exceptions, e.g. in a medical emergency; taking a child in your car without a second member of staff/adult if there is no one else around.

Where it becomes necessary to depart from the code of behaviour, the reasons for doing so should be carefully recorded, and steps should be taken to avoid the recurrence of such a situation in the future.

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.2

1.2A Template 1: Sample Code of Behaviour for Adults

It is important for all personnel to:

- Treat all children with respect and dignity;
- Treat all children equally;
- Model positive, appropriate behaviour to all children they come into contact with;
- Be aware of the Church's child protection and child safeguarding policy;
- Challenge and report abusive and potentially abusive behaviour (Appendix C);
- Develop a culture of openness, honesty and safety;
- Develop a culture where children have permission to tell and to talk about any concerns or worries that they may have;
- Respect each child's boundaries and support them to develop their own understanding and sense of their rights;
- Be aware of their responsibility for the safety of all children in their care;
- Work in open environments;
- Help children to know what they can do if they have a problem.

Adults must never:

- Hit or otherwise physically assault or abuse children;
- Develop sexual relationships with children;
- Develop relationships with children that could in any way be deemed exploitative or abusive;
- Act in any way that may be abusive or may place a child at risk of abuse;
- Use language, make suggestions or offer advice that is inappropriate, offensive or abusive;
- Do things for a child of a personal nature that they can do themselves;
- Watch or supervise a child undressing, or assist a child undressing e.g. in swimming pools or on international Pilgrimages, such as Lourdes baths. (see separate guidance 1.4F Guidance on participation of Children with specific needs)
- Condone or participate in behaviour that is illegal, unsafe or abusive;
- Act in any way that is intended to intimidate, shame, humiliate, belittle or degrade;
- Engage in discriminatory behaviour or language in relation to race, culture, age, gender, disability, religion, sexual orientation or political views;
- Consume alcohol, tobacco or illegal drugs while having responsibility for or in the presence of children/ young people.

In general, it is inappropriate to:

- Take children away or to your own home, especially where they will be alone with you;
- Involve children in one-to-one contact; activities should usually be supervised by at least two adults (Guidance 1.4C). However, there may be two circumstances where this may occur:
 - I. In a reactive situation, for example when a young person requests a one-to-one meeting with you without warning, or where a young person has had to be removed from a group as part of a code of behaviour (Guidance 1.3A);
 - II. As part of a planned structured piece of work (for example one-to-one music tuition).

See Guidance 1.4D for safe practices if either of these situations occur.

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.3

1.3A Guidance on Creating a Code of Behaviour with Children

Children should be involved in drawing up a code of behaviour for themselves; however, it is important that in working with children, an appropriate adult with relevant skills and competencies participates to support them in developing the code of behaviour.

The methods used in creating a code of behaviour should be age and ability appropriate, with children being encouraged to avoid merely drawing up a list of prohibitions. Instead, the code should be comprised of positive statements about respect, and should consider what consequences ensue if the code is broken.

In developing the code, consideration should be given to the following:

- Treating everyone with respect;
- Treating property with respect;
- Not consuming alcohol, tobacco or illegal drugs;
- Agreeing not to bring any physical item into the Church activity that may cause offence or harm to others;
- Acting as a good role model;
- Attending activities on time;
- Signing in and out;
- Turning off your mobile phone;
- Telling someone you trust if you feel uncomfortable with any situation or individual;
- Not using bad language when communicating by phone or email;
- Never bullying anyone or sending threatening messages.

For an example of a workshop to create a code of behaviour with children, refer to 1.3A Template 1.

STANDARD 1

1.3A Template 1: Example Workshop on Creating a Code of Behaviour with Children

Age group

Six to ten years old.

Aim

To create a code of behaviour, and to work on building trust with the group materials.

Materials

Flip chart page, paper, blu-tack, pens and a small, soft ball.

Method

1. Ask the group to sit in a circle.
2. Say to the group: 'Today I want you all to come up with a list of things you think are important when you're working together: what things help you to work as a team, and what things you like when you come here. But because you all have so many ideas and I'll want to get them all down, only one person can speak at a time. The only person who is allowed to speak is the one who's holding this ball (hold the ball in the air). If you want to speak put your hand up and then I'll pass you the ball. Is everyone clear?'
3. Take the flip chart page and stick it on the wall with blu-tack.
4. Say to the group: 'This page is where we are going to write down the things you think are important to help our group work together. It's called a code of behaviour. Everyone in this group has to agree on what goes into this code, which includes rules for adults and children. But first of all it needs a name. What will the name of this group be?'
5. When the children have agreed on a name, write it on the centre of the page.
6. Say to the group: 'Now we have to come up with some rules about how we'll all behave in the group, so put your hand up if you want to go first and remember you can't speak without the ball.'
7. Continue around the group in this way, each time writing up a rule that the children create, or asking the children to write on the page themselves. The idea is to compromise with the children, and the rules should cover things like signing in, time for breaks, listening to each other, turning mobile phones off, safeguarding, and limits to confidentiality, etc. It should also include discussions about what will happen if an agreed rule is broken.
8. After finishing the previous discussion, say to the group: 'Now that we have established the rules, our agreement isn't complete until we all sign it. If you sign the code you promise to stick to the rules up here. Every time this group meets, this agreement will be stuck up on the wall so that you can see the rules that we have all agreed to. So I'll sign first and then everyone else can come up and sign the page together.'
9. The session ends when everyone in the group has signed the poster. You can develop this further with younger children by letting them decorate the code of behaviour.

1.3B Guidance on Dealing with Breaches of Codes of Behaviour for Children and Adults

If a child/young person or an adult breaches the code of behaviour, efforts should be made to resolve the issue by:

- Discussion with and support for the adult or the child/young person;
- A child/young person or adult may be asked to apologise for their behaviour;
- In the case of a child/young person, involving their parents/guardians;
- Agreeing on sanctions.

Sanctions may include:

- Time out of group activity;
- For children/young people, a parent/guardian may be asked to attend group activities with their child for a period of time;
- For adults, retraining in leadership skills, code of behaviour, etc. may be required;
- For children/young people, the code of behaviour should be revisited and agreed upon;
- Monitoring behaviour and support on an ongoing basis.
- In serious cases, suspension or even exclusion from the group should be considered;
- Formal reporting to statutory authorities.

STANDARD 1

1.3C Guidance on Anti-Bullying

We recognise the devastating effects and long-term damage that bullying can have on children/young people and we hope to create safe 'bullying-free' environments for our children/young people.

What is bullying?

- Bullying is intentional, repeated and aggressive physical, verbal or psychological behaviour directed by an individual or group against others;
- Bullying can occur at any age, in any environment, and can be long or short term;
- Any child/young person can be a victim of bullying;
- Bullying can be perpetrated by adults towards children/young people, as well as children/young people towards their peer group;
- Isolated incidents of aggressive behaviour, which should not be condoned, cannot be described as bullying. However, when the behaviour is systematic and ongoing it is bullying;
- Bullying results in pain and distress to the victim.

Bullying can be:

- Emotional/psychological: tormenting, excluding, extorting, intimidating, etc.
- Physical: pushing, kicking, hitting, punching, intimidating, damaging/stealing property, or any use of violence, etc.;
- Racist: racial taunts, i.e. insults about colour, nationality, social class, religious beliefs, ethnic or Traveller background, or use of graffiti or gestures;
- Sexual: unwanted physical harassment or contact, or sexually abusive comments. This may constitute actual sexual abuse, which should be reported;
- Homophobic: taunting a person of a different sexual orientation;
- Verbal: name-calling, sarcasm, spreading rumours, teasing, etc.;
- Cyber: misuse/abuse of email, mobile phones, internet chat rooms, social media, text messaging, or camera and video facilities;
- Subtle: such as an unwelcome expression or gesture that is repeated and focused on an individual;
- Perpetrated by adults: this can include adults who are not related to the child. When perpetrated by adults, rather than children, bullying behaviour could be regarded as physical or emotional abuse. However, other major forms of child abuse – such as neglect and sexual abuse – are not normally comprehended by the term 'bullying'.

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.3

Prevention

To help prevent bullying, the following strategies are suggested:

- Engage children/young people in discussions about what bullying is and why it cannot be tolerated;
- Encourage children/young people to take responsibility and report any incidents of bullying to their leader/person in charge;
- Review this bullying guidance with children/young people and parents involved in parish/agency activities;
- Seek to promote positive attitudes of social responsibility, tolerance and understanding among all personnel.

Procedures to deal with bullying

- All incidents of bullying should be brought to the attention of the leader/person in charge;
- All incidents will be recorded on incident report forms and kept on file;
- Leaders should report to and seek guidance/support from the parish priest/priest in charge;
- Parents should be informed of any incidents of bullying, and should meet with the leader/person in charge to discuss the problem. A record should also be kept;
- The bullying behaviour or threats of bullying must be investigated and the bullying quickly stopped;
- Both the victim and bully should be supported and helped throughout the process;
- If necessary and appropriate, the Gardaí should be consulted.

1.3D Guidance on Boundary Violations

Within the Church body there should be codes of behaviour for adult-to-child (Guidance 1.3A and Guidance 1.3B) interactions which should not be breached. Those ministering with children must be aware of the boundaries, parameters and limits of these relationships, where a child - and their parents or guardians- entrust their welfare and safety to a member of Church personnel. Behaviour which is inappropriate but which does not meet the threshold of abuse must always be taken seriously and addressed.

All concerns relating to the abuse of a child which reach the threshold must be reported to the statutory authorities (Guidance 2.1A).

The following table describes behaviours under a number of headings where children's boundaries are considered to be violated by an adult.

Area	Boundary violating behaviour by an adult involving children
Communication	Uses inappropriate language around children and young people Comments on a child's appearance (positively or negatively) Has sexual conversations with children and young people Uses discriminatory language about a child Has 'pet names' for children Humiliates a child Shares sexual jokes with children Uses obscene gestures or language when addressing children Sends texts or messages of a personal nature using digital media Shares inappropriate images with children Sharing inappropriate personal details with children Photographing, videoing or audio recording a children when not authorised to do so Using personal electronic equipment to communicate with children, when it has been advised against communicating with children in this way. Sharing personal internet sites with children Creating or using personal chat-rooms with children

Physical Contact	Touching a child inappropriately (See Code of Behaviour for appropriate touch) Physically punishing a child Physical restraint of a child , unless in rare circumstance where an adult has to restrain a child to stop them running into traffic, diving into shallow water, hurting themselves or in a medical emergency Meeting a child in secret
Location	Meeting a child on their own Inviting a child to Church personnel's home or other location where the child will be on their own Entering toilet, changing room or shower which are occupied by children and where supervision is not appropriate Tutoring a child in a location which is inappropriate and where there is a lack of transparency and lack of consent from parents or guardians
Gifts/Favours	Targeting an individual child for special attention Giving gifts or money to a child Singling a child out for special duties or responsibilities

Concerning behaviours are those that are considered 'pre-offending behaviours'. Depending on a detectable pattern, these behaviours might also be considered to constitute 'grooming'. Abuse may not have occurred yet, so a conversation with the offending adult may be a good and safe option, and in many cases can help to prevent behaviour becoming abusive (Guidance 1.3B). Prevention efforts are greatly improved when adults are able to recognize suspicious attitudes and patterns of behaviour and to take action. When adults know when and how to safely confront someone who is engaged in pre-offending behaviours, they can help stop abuse before it occurs. It may be that this behaviour is detected via a complaints process (Guidance 1.7A) or through whistleblowing (1.6A).

If the behaviour is abusive, report it. If you are unsure whether the behaviour constitutes abuse, consult the DLP or the statutory authorities.

Action steps to address Boundary Violations

- Think about what is making you uncomfortable, then write it down
- Discuss your concerns with the DLP or Church Authority
- Consider whether it is appropriate to confront the behaviour yourself
- Choose a private time and place where you can talk to the subject without interruption
- Do not accuse or jump to conclusions, but do ask direct questions

- Describe what you saw or heard, and how it made you feel
- Express concern for all involved
- Separate the behaviour from the person
- Encourage behaviour change in the subject
- Encourage the subject to seek help
- If the behaviour continues, formally report it to the DLP.

Action by DLP or Church authority

- If a boundary violation has been reported, there must be a written record of what the behaviour is.
- A meeting should be arranged to advise the subject to discuss the violations (this meeting should be between the subject and the Church authority)
- A record of the meeting and its outcome should be maintained
- A written reminder should be issued by the Church authority to the subject to follow the Code of Behaviour of the Church body
- If required, appropriate training should be provided to the subject to ensure that the violation is not repeated.
- If the behaviour reoccurs, disciplinary action involving the subject should be considered.

Rights of person accused of boundary violation (the subject)

An individual accused of a boundary violation has a right to know the detail of what boundary is alleged to have been breached by them

If they accepts that the breach occurred, they have a right to be given the opportunity to correct the behaviour through support from the Church authority.

At any meetings with the Church authority the subject should be given the opportunity to be accompanied and supported by a colleague or friend of their choice

If training, therapy or counselling for the subject is considered helpful, this should be provided by the Church authority

If the boundary violation leads to disciplinary action, the subject should be advised of their rights to access canon and civil law advice

1.4A Guidance on Safe Care for Children

Our generation will show that it can rise to the promise found in each young person when we know how to give them space. This means that we have to create the material and spiritual conditions for their full development; to give them a solid basis on which to build their lives; to guarantee their safety and their education to be everything they can be; to pass on to them lasting values that make life worth living; to give them a transcendent horizon for their thirst for authentic happiness and their creativity for the good; to give them the legacy of a world worthy of human life; and to awaken in them their greatest potential as builders of their own destiny, sharing responsibility for the future of everyone. If we can do all this, we anticipate today the future that enters the world through the window of the young.

– Pope Francis (2014)

To build a safe and solid environment for children, each Church authority must strive to be child-centred in their practice and behaviour. In practical terms, this will include clear written procedures outlined in the following templates and guidance documents.

1.4A Template 1: Attendance Register for Large Groups

A minimum of two officially appointed leaders, who have completed the Church body recruitment process (including the provision of vetting/AccessNI checks, if appropriate), should be responsible for each activity involving young people. At least one of the leaders must have undergone a full-day training session provided by trainers registered with the NBSCCCI. These leaders must sign this sheet and put their initials under each date to confirm that the children/young people and adults marked were in attendance, as indicated by the 'time in' and 'time out' for each date.

1.4B Guidance on Dealing with Accidents

It is essential that all Church personnel (clergy, religious or lay volunteers) are familiar with the procedures outlined below. If a child has an accident and injures himself/herself while attending a Church-run event, these procedures should be followed:

1. Assess the injury and reassure the child. If the injury is severe or the child has lost consciousness, please contact the emergency services immediately by phoning 999 or 112. You can phone 112 from a mobile that has no credit and even from a phone that has no SIM card. The 112 emergency number is a European emergency number and can be called from anywhere in Europe. If the emergency services are to be called, contact with the child's parents/guardians must be made urgently. Contact information should be found on the child's membership/consent form. If the parents/guardians are not available, it may be necessary for a leader to travel with the child to the hospital. If medical treatment is required, Church personnel may be asked about known allergies or existing medical conditions. Again, this information should be found on the child's membership/consent form;
2. If the injury is minor, local application of treatment should be available from the first aid box. There should be a fully stocked first aid box to hand at all Church-related events. Remember to make a note of what has been used from the first aid box so that it can be replaced at the earliest opportunity. Under no circumstances should any medication be given to a child;
3. As soon as possible after the accident, write up a report using an accident/incident report form (see following page). Once completed, this form should be stored in a safe place, in line with data protection, and treated as a confidential document;
4. Always inform parents/guardians of any accident that has occurred involving their child, regardless of how minor you consider it to be. It is good practice to give a copy of the accident/incident report form to parents/guardians;
5. It is good practice to keep blank copies of the accident/incident form with the first aid box so that one can be easily filled out in the event of an emergency.

1.4C Guidance on Maintaining Adequate Supervision Ratios

In planning a trip or activity, it is critically important to consider how many adults are needed to supervise children in a safe manner. It is recommended that a certain number of adults be available to supervise a certain number of children; however, this is also dependent on whether the children have specific needs or requirements, and on the duration of the activity.

At a minimum, two adults are required for each activity.

In addition, the minimum following ratios should be applied, depending on the number of children:

- zero to one years = one member of staff to three children
- one to two years = one member of staff to five children
- two to three years = one member of staff to six children
- three to six years = one member of staff to eight children
- seven to twelve years = one member of staff to eight children
- thirteen to eighteen years = one member of staff to ten children

If it is an overnight activity, additional staff should be considered. If the group is mixed, a gender balance should be maintained.

1.4D Guidance on One-to-One Contact with Children and Young People

In general, Church activities should not involve one-to-one contact, and should usually be supervised by at least two adults (Guidance 1.4C). However, there may be two circumstances where this may occur:

1. In a reactive situation, for example, when a young person requests a one-to-one meeting with you without warning, or where a young person has had to be removed from a group as part of a code of behaviour (Guidance 1.3A);
2. As part of a planned and structured piece of work (for example, one-to-one music tuition).

The points below provide some guidance in relation to these situations.

Reactive situations

- If you need to talk to a young person alone, try to do so in an open environment, in view of others.
- If this is not possible, try to meet in rooms with visual access, or with the door open, or in a room/area where other people are nearby. You should advise another adult that such a meeting is taking place and the reason for it. A record should be kept of these meetings – including names, dates, times, location, reason for the meeting and outcome – and stored appropriately and securely (Appendix B).
- Avoid meetings with individual children where they are on their own in a building.
- One-to-one meetings should take place at an appropriate time, e.g. not late at night, and in an appropriate venue.

Planned and structured pieces of work

- The particular activity should have a clear rationale and aims for involving one-to-one work.
- Parents/guardians must be fully informed as to the nature and purpose of this work, and must give written consent (1.4A Template 3).
- A clear code of behaviour must be agreed and adhered to by both parties. This should include limits of confidentiality and safeguarding procedures (Guidance 1.3A).

1.4E Guidance on the Pope John Paul II Award

The Pope John Paul II Award values and encourages the participation of young people in activities that allow them to live their faith in Jesus Christ in their parish and wider community. The award is designed to facilitate involvement in school, parish, religious and community activities.

The majority of activities carried out as part of the award fall within the scope of the safeguarding policy of the Church or school, but there are other activities that do not. Therefore, it is imperative that the protocol below is strictly adhered to, especially when the activities engaged in by the participant in the award fall outside the scope and remit of safeguarding children covered by the diocese or congregation, parish or school policies and procedures.

In addition to what is set out in the Pope John Paul II Award handbook, in particular its code of ethics, the following protocol applies to those who engage in the award:

- Parental/guardian and children's consent is a requirement for all those participating in the award who are under eighteen years of age (Guidance 1.4E Template 1);
- A completed application form must be given to the award leader prior to engagement in the award (Guidance 1.4E Template 1);
- For activities associated with the award that take place within diocesan, congregational, parish or school contexts, the participant must abide by the safeguarding policy and procedures of the relevant location, including its codes of behaviour;
- Specific activities may require additional parental/guardian consent, at the discretion of either or both the Pope John Paul II Award committee/coordinator and the award leader;
- It is highly recommended that participants in the award scheme carry out their parish involvement and social awareness activities in groups of two or more;
- Where activities associated with the award fall outside the scope of the diocesan, congregational, parish or school safeguarding policy, the following procedure applies (if unsure, please contact the Pope John Paul II Award committee/coordinator to verify if diocesan, congregational, parish or school safeguarding policy applies to any particular activity):
 - I. Activities must be approved by the Pope John Paul II Award committee/coordinator. It is the responsibility of the award leader to ensure that this happens using the parish and social activities form (Guidance 1.4E Template 2);
 - II. The external organisation must complete the safeguarding agreement form (Guidance 1.4E Template 3);
 - III. The activity cannot commence until both forms are completed and returned to the award leader.

5. Where possible, it is highly recommended that participants of the Award carry out their parish involvement and social awareness activities in groups of two or more.
6. All Award participants who have a role in working with children or vulnerable adults must complete the safeguarding awareness programme. In addition, those participants working with children or vulnerable adults who meet the requirements for vetting in their jurisdiction MUST be vetted. Activity leaders must determine which participants need to be vetted.
7. Participants must act in accordance with the diocesan Safeguarding Policy & Procedures, including the Codes of Behaviour for Adults and Code of Behaviour with Children.
8. Award Leaders/Parish Coordinators must be vetted and work in accordance with the Codes of Behaviour for Adults and Code of Behaviour with Children.

10. Participants may be asked to provide an email and mobile phone number for communication. These details will only be used by the leaders for Award related activities. Texts and emails may be used to promote Award events. If you are unhappy with this please inform the Award Leader/Coordinator.

13. The participating diocese only accepts liability or responsibility for an incident caused by the negligence or breach of statutory duty of the diocese, its servants or agents.
14. By signing this Pope John Paul II Award Application & Consent Form, the parent/guardian is taking responsibility for the safety and well-being of the participant during activities that take place outside the scope of the diocesan Safeguarding Policy & Procedures.
15. The Pope John Paul II Award does its best to ensure that your personal information is secure so that your confidentiality is maintained. Your personal information is kept for no longer than is necessary. The Award adheres to the provisions of the Data Protection Act 1998 and the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

We are grateful to the many clubs, societies, charities and community projects that help Award participants achieve their Award by facilitating voluntary placements/work experience. We hope these organisations will benefit greatly from the generosity and energy of the young volunteers.

We would appreciate the cooperation of all organisations in ensuring the safety and well-being of all young people who engage in this Award, and in turn with your organisation. To this effect, where activities associated with the Award fall outside the scope of the diocesan/school and Parish Safeguarding Policy, organisations will complete this Pope John Paul II Award Safeguarding Agreement Form and the following procedures will apply:

- Activities must be named on the Pope John Paul II Award Application & Consent Form and approved by the Pope John Paul II Award Diocesan Committee/Coordinator.
- Organisations must provide adequate supervision, insurance and a safe environment for Pope John Paul II Award participants. The organisation must be approved by the Pope John Paul II Award Committee and these organisations will be required to complete the Safeguarding Agreement Form verifying that they have adequate safeguarding policies and procedures in place.

1.4F Guidance on the Participation of Children with Specific Needs

Some children have specific needs⁶ that place additional responsibilities on those who care for and work with them. It is often the situational and environmental factors that disable the child, rather than the physical or intellectual difficulty the child experiences. Where possible, the environmental factors should be adapted to the child's needs. Prohibitive attitudes need to be addressed through education and information.

Children who have a disability have the same rights as any other child, in line with the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child.

Points to consider when including a child with specific needs in your group:

- Work in partnership with the child, parents/guardians and any professionals involved to establish how the child can be included;
- Make sure inclusion is possible before bringing the child into the group;
- Make reasonable adjustments;
- Be interested in the child and build a rapport with them;
- If the child has a communication impairment, acquiring some key skills in their communication method will be useful;
- Some specific training may be useful or required, e.g. the autistic spectrum, epilepsy and others;
- Risk assessments may be necessary to ensure the safety of some children with specific needs;
- Higher staff ratios may be required if the child has additional needs or behavioural problems;
- Intimate care issues: when introducing a child with specific needs into an activity, it is important to establish if they have intimate care needs, and who should provide or assist with this if it is necessary. It is important to remember that not every child with a disability has intimate care needs. Intimate care is, to some extent, individually defined and varies according to personal experience, cultural expectations and gender. It may be described as help with anything of a personal or private nature that the individual is unable to do themselves;
- Children with specific needs may be more likely than other children to be bullied or subjected to other forms of abuse, and they may also be less clear about physical and emotional boundaries;
- It is particularly important that children with specific needs are carefully listened to, in recognition of the fact that they may have difficulty expressing their concerns, and so that the importance of what they say is not underestimated.

⁶ Specific needs mean the specific, or unique, out-of-the-ordinary concerns created by a person's medical, physical, mental or developmental condition or disability. Additional services are usually needed to help a person in one or more of the following areas: thinking, communication, movement, getting along with others, and personal care.

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.4

Generally, Church personnel are not expected to be involved in the provision of intimate care of children. This should be undertaken by suitably qualified people. Decisions regarding who provides intimate care for a child should be discussed and agreed by everyone concerned: the child's views should be ascertained; parents/guardians should be consulted and their consent sought; a rota of carers of the same sex as the child should be agreed; and the age, stage of development and ethnicity of the child will need to be considered. Most importantly, it should be agreed in advance who will carry out intimate care and how it should be done. Guidelines to be borne in mind when providing intimate care include: the sensitive nature of such tasks; the need to treat every child with dignity and respect; the need to ensure an appropriate degree of privacy; the need to involve the child as much as possible in their own care; and trying to ensure consistency in who provides care.

If a child appears distressed or unhappy, this should be discussed with parents/guardians, if appropriate, and the activity leader. Any concerns or allegations should be reported following the procedures outlined in the safeguarding policy and procedures document of the Church body.

1.4G Guidance on Trips Away with Young People

Introduction

Trips away that involve young people can be an extremely rewarding and fulfilling experience for adults and children/young people involved in them. However, to do this safely and in a way that safeguards all concerned requires careful planning and consideration. Listed below are a number of areas that should be considered in planning a trip away.

Considerations for planning trips away

Have you:

- Identified the aim and outcomes of the programme?
- Followed your Church body's child safeguarding policy and procedures?
- Carried out a hazard assessment (Guidance 1.8A)?
- Recruited and selected staff/volunteers using safe practice procedures (Guidance 1.1A)?
- Selected a key staff member who has overall responsibility for the trip?
- Selected staff for the trip who are appropriately trained, qualified and vetted (if appropriate) (Guidance 1.1B)?
- Nominated a staff member who is responsible for first aid (Guidance 1.4B)?
- Ensured that you have adequate and gender-based supervision in line with your safeguarding policies and procedures (Guidance 1.4C)?
- Appointed a contact person at home who has access to all information and contact details?
- Checked your own insurance and ensured that you have coverage for all activities?
- Checked that the transport has appropriate insurance, qualified drivers and seatbelts?
- Carried out an equipment safety check?
- Checked the first aid kit?
- Ensured there is a contingency plan?
- Made provisions for returning home early?
- Allocated a budget and contingency fund?
- Checked out the locations and accommodation of the trip away to ensure they have:
 - Appropriate safeguarding policy, practices and procedures in place?
 - Insurance cover?
 - Appropriately trained and qualified staff?
 - Changing areas for boys and girls (if required)?
 - Disability access (if required)?

Have the young people/participants:

- Been involved as much as possible in the planning of the trip?

STANDARD 1

- Agreed a code of behaviour (Guidance 1.3A)?
- Agreed boundaries around unstructured time?
- Been given information on appropriate clothing, and contact details for leaders?
- Consented to the trip away (Guidance 1.4A Template 3)?

Have parents/carers:

1.5A Guidance on External Groups who Use Church Property

It is a requirement that all groups working with children in the Church body and/or using facilities owned by the Church body are insured, and that they have a child safeguarding policy in place.

The general principle is that the obligation to comply with requirements relating to insurance and child safeguarding rests with the group using Church property, and not with the Church body.

1. It is the responsibility of any group using Church property to run activities involving children to ensure that they comply with all applicable child safeguarding and protection legislation and guidelines.
2. The group should have their own child safeguarding policy and procedures. The group is also responsible for liaising with Tusla/HSCT (Health and Social Care Trust) (as appropriate), to ensure that the policy and procedures meet the statutory requirements.
3. The group should have appropriate insurance for the activity they are running.
4. The Church body should at no stage assist any outside group in developing a child safeguarding policy.
5. The Church body should have confirmation in writing from the group that they have a child safeguarding policy in place. It is not the role of the Church body to validate the adequacy of the policy; that is the responsibility of Tusla/HSCT.
6. If the group does not have a child safeguarding policy then it is up to the Church authority to decide whether to let the group use the property. If the Church authority thinks it is appropriate they should issue a letter to the leader of the visiting group stating that while on their property full responsibility and liability for ensuring the safety of the children rests with the leader.
7. The Church body should have confirmation in writing from the group that they have appropriate insurance in place, which includes the following:
 - The name of their insurers;
 - The policy number;
 - The period of cover of the policy;
 - The limit of indemnity.

1.5B Guidance on Church Property and Hire for Private Functions

Individual adults (parents/guardians/family members) approaching the parish priest/local superior to use Church property for a private function do not meet the requirement for vetting by the Church authority.

All parish/congregations are insured to cover one-off private events, and it is the sole responsibility of the parents/guardians to organise and supervise all children attending. As such, they are not required to confirm in writing that they have a safeguarding policy or appropriate insurance.

However, as a matter of good practice, each parish priest/local superior should ensure that key health and safety measures are covered prior to agreeing the property for use. For example, it would be good practice to draw up an agreement with a potential user (e.g. in the case of a child's private birthday party), highlighting the terms and conditions for the use of the Church property, which should include:

- That the Church body will ensure the property is safe to use, including how accidents resulting from the condition of the property should be reported;
- That the Church body is not responsible for the organisation, supervision or conduct of the children or adults involved in the event;
- That the safeguarding policy of the Church body does not apply to the private party, and, as such, all safeguards are the responsibility of the organiser of the event and not the Church body.

What is excluded as part of this guidance

This guidance is specifically for events that involve children, and is not designed for non-child-related events. Additionally, this guidance does not cover the following situations:

- Ministry with children that is organised by the Church body as part of sacramental celebrations (for example a Communion/Confirmation celebration involving a number of children). In these situations, the responsibility for safeguarding rests with the Church body;
- Use of Church property for other parish-related or community-related activities such as funeral receptions and other such activities, which fall outside the remit of safeguarding children;
- Schools using Church property for sacramental celebrations. In these situations it is advisable that the school and the Church body agree who is responsible for safeguarding using Guidance 2.1J.

1.5C Guidance for Religious (who do not have Ministry with Children or are not Managing Allegations) whose Church is Used for Public Masses

Where a religious order/congregation facilitates Mass on its property, which may be attended by members of the public, including children, the following safeguards are required:

- The Church authority of the religious order ensures that the visiting priest shows his celebrat/ letter of good standing, and a record is kept to this effect (Guidance 1.1C);
- The priest agrees to follow his own diocesan/religious order's child safeguarding procedures.

1.5D Guidance on Religious (who do not have Ministry with Children or are not Managing Allegations) who Facilitate Groups of Children on Church Property

Some religious orders, for example, enclosed communities, may open their property to groups of children as part of their faith development. Responsibility for the children rests with the organisers of the visit (the school, those involved with sacramental preparation, etc.).

If a member of the Church body is directly involved with the children, this is classed as ministry with children, and the applicable indicators in Table 1 of the policy apply.

If a member of the Church body is not directly involved with the children, this is not classed as ministry with children, and the Church body is only required to fulfil the indicators contained in Table 3 of the safeguarding policy. In this situation, as part of Indicator 1.5, the following safeguards must be in place:

- The adult leader organising the visit is advised that the safeguarding procedures of the Church body/school to which they belong apply during the period of the visit;
- The organiser is asked to complete a form for use of Church property by external groups (Guidance 1.5A Template 1), and this is retained by the Church body as part of record-keeping requirements (Appendix B).

1.5E Guidance on Lay Apostolates Ministering with Children Within a Church Body

A lay apostolate is an organised body, made up from lay people and consecrated religious who exercise a ministry within the Catholic Church. These organisations cooperate with Church authorities.

Canon 676 states: Lay institutes, whether of men or of women, participate in the pastoral function of the Church through spiritual and corporal works of mercy and offer the most diverse services to people. They are variously called oblates, third order members, associates, lay associates, lay members or some other suitable title (cf c.303).

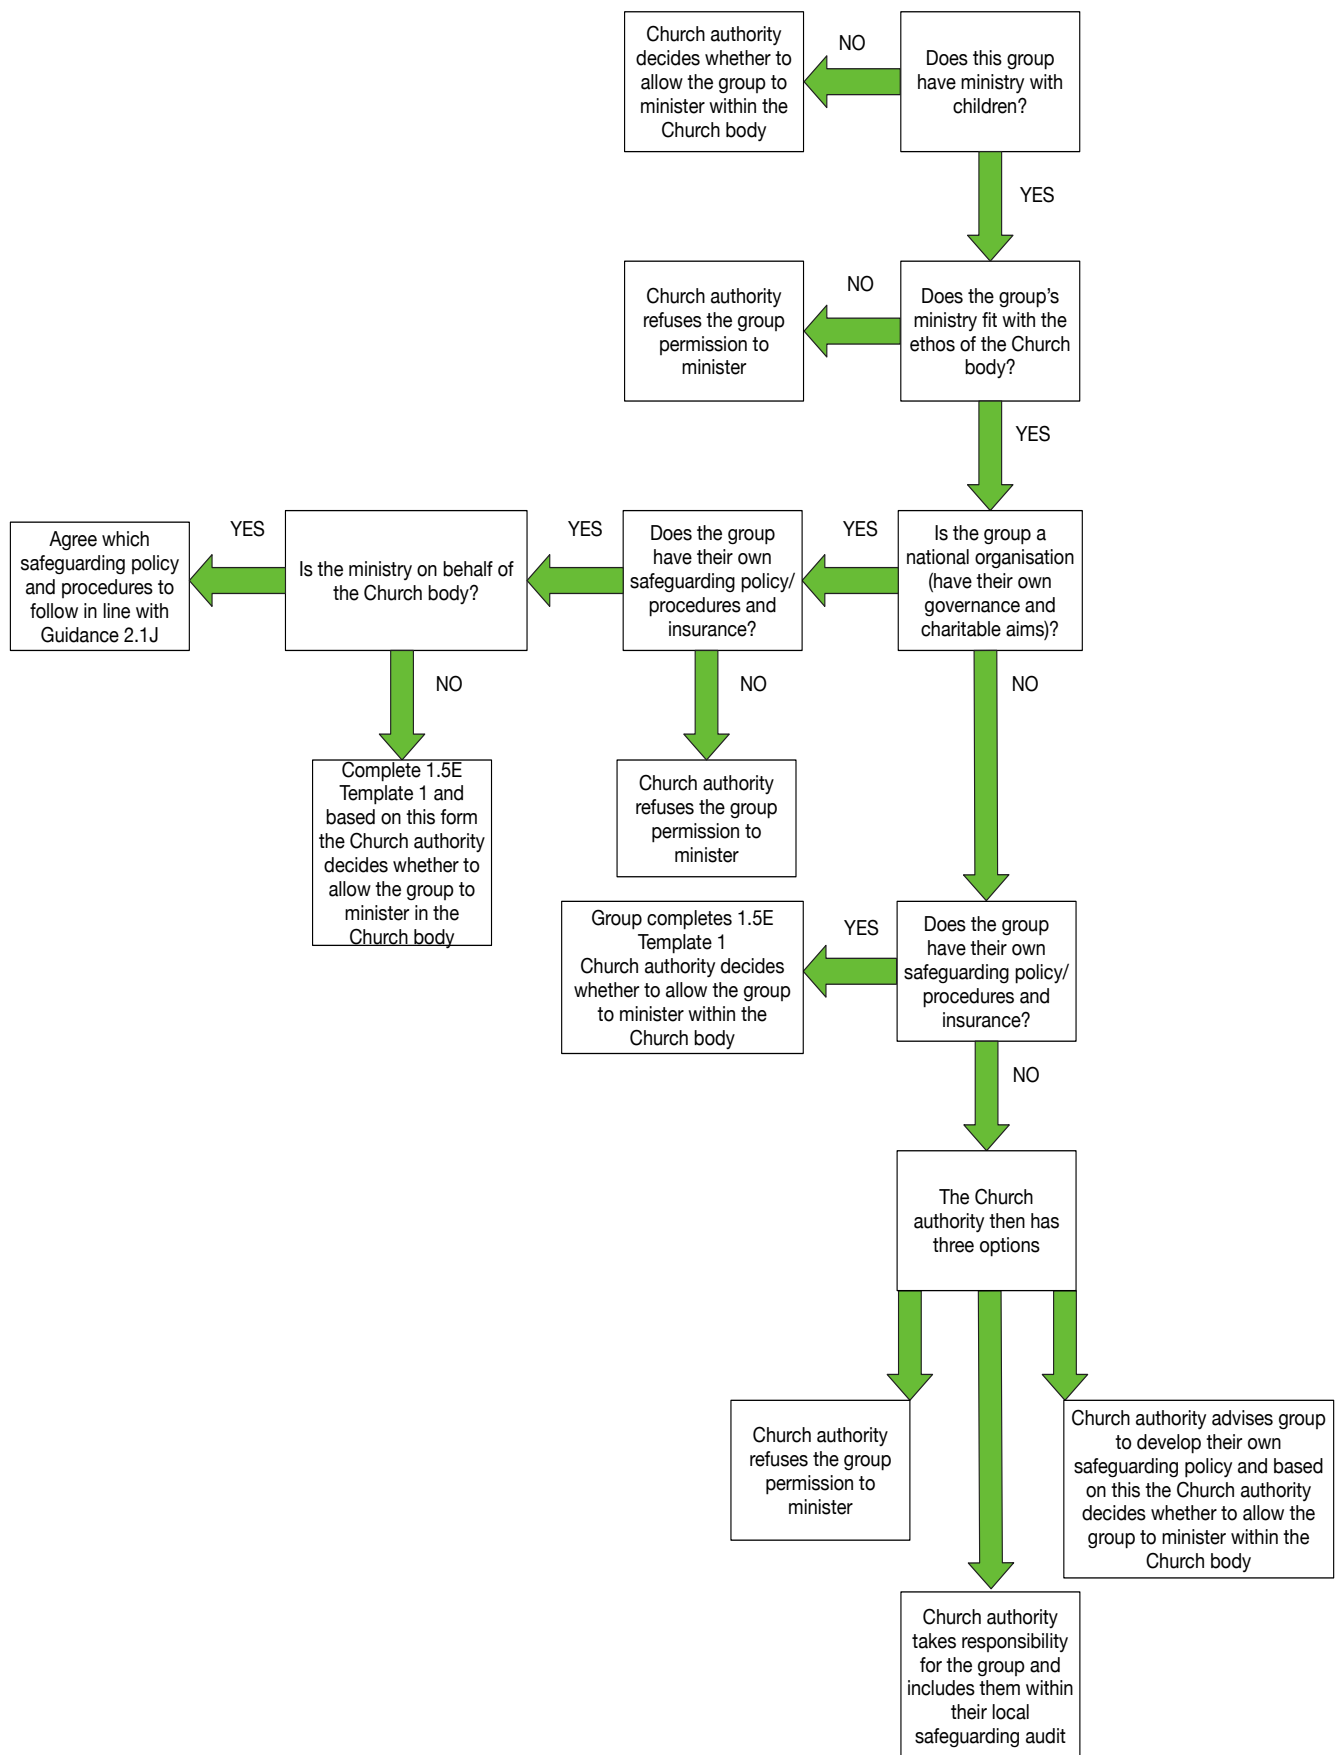

A Church authority should be aware of and give permission to all apostolates and agencies for ministry with children within the Church body. Such permission should be subject to the Church authority being satisfied that all necessary child safeguards and adequate insurance are in place.

The general principle is that the obligation to comply with requirements relating to insurance and child safeguarding rests with the group ministering within the Church body, and not with the Church body; however there may be exceptions to this principle.

In order for the Church authority to be satisfied that appropriate child safeguarding policy and practice and adequate insurance are in place, the safeguarding committee, as part of the annual audit (Guidance 7.1C), should establish what agencies and apostolates are ministering with children in or on behalf of the Church body and compile a register with details including:

- Name of the apostolate
- Ethos of the apostolate
- Is this an apostolate of the Church and under the governance of the Church authority
- Whether this apostolate is affiliated to a national organisation
- Name of lead person
- Whether the apostolate has a child safeguarding policy in place
- Whether the apostolate has appropriate insurance in place; if yes the following details are required:
 - The name of their insurers;
 - The policy number;
 - The period of cover of the policy;
 - The limit of indemnity.

With this information the safeguarding committee can then follow the steps outlined in the flowchart on the next page

Groups that are part of a National Organisation

It is the responsibility of any lay apostolate who conducts ministries involving children to ensure that it complies with all applicable child safeguarding and protection legislation and guidelines.

The lay apostolate should have their own child safeguarding policy and procedures for the ministry they are running. They are also responsible for liaising with Tusla/HSCT (Health and Social Care Trust) (as appropriate), to ensure that the policy and procedures meet the statutory requirements.

- The lay apostolate is also responsible for its own insurance.
- If the lay apostolate does not have its own insurance or safeguarding policy in place, then a letter from the Church authority should be forwarded to the leader asking them to cease all ministries with children.
- If the lay apostolate has insurance but does not have a safeguarding policy, advise on how to develop a policy should be sought from Tusla/HSCT prior to a Church authority agreeing to accept them for ministry in the Church Body.
- If the lay apostolate is ministering on behalf of the Church body then a written agreement should be made that the Apostolate will follow the Church's child safeguarding policy (Guidance 2.1J).
- If the group has its own safeguarding policy and is not ministering on behalf of the Church body then they should complete 1.5E Template 1. Based on this information the Church authority decides whether to grant them permission to minister.

Groups that are not part of a National Organisation

- If the lay apostolate is not part of a national organisation and has its own safeguarding policy and insurance in place, then they should complete 1.5E Template 1. Based on this information the Church authority decides whether to grant them permission to minister.
- If the lay apostolate is not part of a national organisation and does not have a child safeguarding policy in place, the Church authority then has three choices:
 - I. The safeguarding committee could recommend to the Church authority whether the ministry is appropriate and that the Church authority should consider including the organisation as part of the ministry of the Church body, which means they would follow the safeguarding policy and procedure of the Church body, and be covered under the Church body's insurance. If the committee has any concerns about the ministry, but believes that the Church authority should include then within diocesan ministry, then the leader of the group should be contacted to establish if through training and support, the standard of child safeguarding practice can be improved.

- II. The safeguarding committee could recommend to the group leader that they develop their own safeguarding policy and procedures and complete 1.5E Template 1. Once that is completed the Church authority could consider allowing the group permission to minister.
- III. The safeguarding committee determine that the ministry is not in line with the ethos of the Church body and/or the practice falls short of the expected child safeguarding standards, they should recommend to the Church authority that a letter is written to the leader asking them to cease all child related ministry in the Church body.

1.5F Guidance on Guidance on Probation Community Service Sites (ROI Only)

This guidance is in draft form only and is currently being finalised with the Probation Service (ROI) and the National Board for Safeguarding Children in the Catholic Church in Ireland.

It is a requirement that all groups working with children in the Church body and/or using facilities owned by the Church body are insured, and that they have a child safeguarding policy in place.

The Probation Service does not place children to work or work with children in the context of Church based Community Service sites. Adults undertaking Community Service may be placed on Community Service sites that are hosted in Church property. In these instances it is possible that contact with children may occur as an incidental part of the Community Service placement.

The general principle is that the obligation to comply with requirements relating to insurance and child safeguarding rests with the Probation Service who are using Church property, and not with the Church body.

1. It is the responsibility of the Probation Service who are using Church property to ensure that they comply with all applicable child safeguarding and protection legislation and guidelines.
2. The Probation Service has their own child safeguarding policy and procedures and is responsible for liaising with Tusla, to ensure that the policy and procedures meet the statutory requirements.
3. The Church body should at no stage assist the Probation Service in developing a child safeguarding policy.
4. The Church body should have confirmation in writing from the Probation Service that they have a child safeguarding policy in place. It is not the role of the Church body to validate the adequacy of the policy; that is the responsibility of Tusla.
5. The Probation Service assesses people in relation to their suitability to undertake Community Service. This assessment includes receipt of criminal record/conviction information from the Gardai. If in the course of a Community Service Order new information comes to light the suitability of the person's placement in the Church will be reassessed in line with information received and this guidance document.
6. The management of the Community Service Order rests with the Probation Service. People undertaking Community Service will be supervised by the Probation Service (Community Service Supervisor) whilst on site undertaking Community Service.
7. The Probation Service will not place persons on Church Sites were they know that the person has been convicted of crimes relating to the abuse of children.

8. Based on information available, The Probation Service will do its utmost to ensure that persons convicted of crimes related to the abuse of vulnerable adults will not be placed on Church Sites.
9. The Church will have public liability insurance at the Community Service site, to ensure the property is safe for use.
10. The Probation Service is a Delegated State Authority and operates under State Indemnity. Community Service is an activity of the Probation Service and the activity and those performing it i.e. people undertaking community service and Community Service Supervisors operate under this indemnity. Should a Church Site require further details in relation to this the local Senior Probation Officer can arrange for the details to be issued by the Health & Safety Unit in the Probation Service.

1.6A Guidance on Whistle-Blowing

All staff and volunteers within the context and agency of the Church authority must acknowledge their individual responsibility to bring matters of concern to the attention of their supervisor/superior/manager.

This could be the parish priest, religious superior, bishop, provincial and/or relevant agency managers. Although this can be difficult to do, it is particularly important where the welfare of children may be at risk.

You may be the first to recognise that something is wrong, but you may not feel able to express your concerns out of a feeling that this would be disloyal to colleagues, or you may fear harassment or victimisation. These feelings, however natural, must never result in a child or young person continuing to be unnecessarily at risk. Remember, it is often the most vulnerable children or young people who are targeted. These children need an advocate to safeguard their welfare.

Don't think, 'what if I'm wrong?' Think, 'what if I'm right!'

Reasons for whistle-blowing

- Each individual has a responsibility to raise concerns about unacceptable practice or behaviour.
- To prevent the problem worsening or widening.
- To protect or reduce risks to others.
- To prevent you from becoming implicated.

What stops people from whistle-blowing

- Fear of starting a chain of events that spirals out of control.
- Disrupting the work or project.
- Fear of getting it wrong.
- Fear of repercussions or damaging careers.
- Fear of not being believed.

What the law says

There is legislation in both jurisdictions related to whistleblowing; and this applies to employees of Church bodies, as well as to agency workers in certain circumstances; to contractors and consultants engaged on contract by the Church body; and to trainees, temporary workers and those on work experience with the Church body. It does not apply to volunteers.

In the Republic of Ireland the legislation is the Protected Disclosures Act 2014, a guide to which can be accessed electronically at www.raiseaconcern.com/legislation/raiseaconcern-easy-guide-to-pdpla#accept

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.6

In Northern Ireland the law that covers whistleblowing is The Public Interest Disclosure (Northern Ireland) Order 1998, (as amended in October 2017). An easy-to-read guide to the effect of this legislation is available to download from www.economy-ni.gov.uk/sites/default/files/publications/economy/public-interest-disclosure-guidance.pdf

How to raise a concern

Whistle-blowing can be about a range of concerns, not just child safeguarding. It is important to:

- Voice any concerns, suspicions or uneasiness as soon as possible. The earlier a concern is expressed the sooner and easier action can be taken;
- Try to pinpoint exactly what practice is concerning and why;
- Approach your immediate superior/supervisor/manager;
- If your concern is about your immediate superior/supervisor/manager, please contact your DLP, the statutory services or the NBSCCCI;
- Make sure a satisfactory response is secured – do not let matters rest;
- Ideally, concerns should be placed in writing, outlining the background and history, giving names, dates, locations and any other relevant information;
- You are not expected to prove the truth of your complaint, but you need to demonstrate sufficient grounds for concern.

What happens next?

- You should be given information on the nature and progress of any enquiries resulting from your concern.
- Your supervisor/superior/manager has a responsibility to protect you from harassment or victimisation.
- No action will be taken against you if the concern proves to be unfounded and was raised in good faith.
- Malicious allegations will be considered a disciplinary offence.
- Follow up if the person to whom you reported has not responded within a reasonable period of time, and if that follow up is not acted upon, report the matter to the relevant statutory authorities.

Self-reporting

There may be occasions when a member of staff or a volunteer has a personal difficulty, perhaps a physical or mental health problem, which they know to be impinging on their professional competence. Staff and volunteers have a responsibility to discuss such a situation with their line supervisor/superior/manager so that professional and personal support can be offered to the member concerned.

Whilst reporting will remain confidential, in most instances this cannot be guaranteed where personal difficulties raise concerns about the welfare or safety of children.

1.7A Guidance on Complaints Procedure for Safeguarding Concerns that are not Allegations of Abuse

Introduction

A complaint is defined as a grievance and/or the raising of a concern about breaches of codes of behaviour. Allegations or suspicions of child abuse do not fall into this category of general complaints, and should always be dealt with in accordance with Guidance 2.1H. This complaints procedure is not for use by Church personnel who would use the whistle-blowing procedure to raise their complaint (Guidance 1.6A).

All complaints will be taken seriously and dealt with fairly and confidentially. Efforts will be made to quickly and informally resolve complaints through discussion with the parents/guardians, children/young people, volunteers/members of staff and clergy, as appropriate.

Parents/guardians, young people/children, volunteers, members of staff and clergy will be made aware that there is a complaints procedure. A copy of the complaints form is available in Guidance 1.7A Template 1.

If a parent/guardian, young person or child is not satisfied with any aspect of the running of a particular activity, or the behaviour of any individual involved in that activity, the following steps should be taken:

First step

All complaints of this nature should be resolved using an open dialogue with the Church personnel involved. If resolution is not possible, the following step should be taken.

Second step

1. The Church authority should be contacted by completing a complaints form (Guidance 1.7A Template 1). The Church authority has eight weeks to consider the complaint.
2. A letter acknowledging receipt of the complaint should be sent within seven calendar days, enclosing a copy of the complaints procedure.
3. All complaints must be thoroughly investigated.
4. The Church authority may organise a meeting to discuss and hopefully resolve the complaint. This communication may also take place by telephone if a meeting is not possible. They will do this within fourteen calendar days of sending the acknowledgement letter to the complainant.
5. Within seven days of the meeting or discussion, the Church authority will write to the complainant to confirm what took place and to set out any solutions that were agreed upon.
6. If a meeting is not agreeable or possible, the Church authority will issue a detailed written reply to the complainant, setting out their suggestions for resolving the matter within twenty-one calendar days of sending the acknowledgement letter to them.

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.7

7. If the complainant is still not satisfied at this point, they should contact the Church authority again.

At the conclusion of this step, the Church authority may decide to take further action on the complaint. If, however, the Church authority decides not to take further action, the process is completed.

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS

All complaints arising during a Church-related activity (with the exception of complaints about child abuse) should attempt to be resolved by discussion between the parties involved. If this is not possible, this form should be completed and sent to the Church authority.

1.8A Guidance on Hazard Assessment of Activities with Children

Introduction

Hazard assessment is an important part of working with children. It assists with managing both health and safety issues, and the welfare of children.

As adults we assess hazards throughout our lives, but when working with children it is important to consider potential hazards that may lead to risk to children and to the adults who work with them. Consideration of how to control or manage hazard is critical. It is important to identify acceptable levels of hazards, as all risk cannot be removed.

Whilst this guidance is concerned primarily with hazards associated with failure to follow effective safeguarding practice, it must be understood alongside the health and safety regulation and policy of the Church body. Whilst the focus on hazard assessment should be on groups of children with whom you are working, as opposed to the physical venue, if a problem with the venue is discovered during the course of assessing (e.g. broken glass, electrical cabling, etc.) this needs to be raised with the appropriate authority in charge of health and safety for the Church body.

What does the term ‘hazard’ mean?

A hazard is a potential source of harm or adverse health effect on a person or persons. This may include areas such as:

- failure to comply with effective safeguarding practice, such as lack of supervision ratios or consent forms;
- medical hazards, such as failure to take medication, or inappropriate intimate care practice;
- physical hazards, such as dangerous electrical cabling, or proximity to water.

Assessing hazards

1. Identify the hazards: look for hazards in the nature of the activity, and in the place where you are holding the activity.
2. Identify who is at risk: decide who may be harmed and how. Everyone, or perhaps only certain people, may be at risk. Some groups may need special consideration as they may be more vulnerable to certain hazards.
3. Identify what the likelihood of harm may be.
4. Identify the consequences of injury or harm: the consequences could range from trivial to severe or even fatal. The most severe hazards need the most urgent attention.
5. Identify the controls that need to be put in place to limit the hazard.

These steps should be used to complete a hazard assessment form (Guidance 1.8A Template 1). If no hazard exists, you don't need to note it on the form.

1.9A Guidance on Use of Technology

Church authorities need to assess the benefits of technology and how this can be used safely and effectively, in line with rules that respect the dignity and rights of all users, particularly children.

Detailed policies and procedures should be provided on the use of technology, including digital and online systems such as:

- The internet (Guidance 1.9B);
- Texting and emailing (Guidance 1.9C);
- Photography (Guidance 1.9D);
- CCTV and webcams (Guidance 1.9E).

The majority of occasions when people use mobile phones, computers or take photographs of children do not provide any cause for concern. However, there are occasions when this is not the case.

At the outset it is important to identify the risks associated with the use of technology, and then to minimise the risks by putting in place measures outlined below. GAP Paper 1 on Child Safeguarding and Digital Media may be useful to assist with this.

Consent

The consent of parents/guardians and children should always be sought prior to engaging in any activity that involves the use of IT equipment, such as those outlined above.

A Church body may seek overall consent from its members/group leaders (1.4A Template 3), or it may ask for permission for set occasions (1.9A Template 1).

When seeking consent for the use of images or videos for Church purposes, the following should be considered:

- The issue of consent for photography/videoing for Church purposes should be addressed with parents/guardians and children prior to the sacramental day, and the policy should be explained to all families who will be attending;
- In seeking consent for photography/videos, children and families should be reminded about the rights to privacy and data protection of other children, their families and the wider community;
- Those organising an event for Church purposes, and who are seeking consent for photography/video usage, should be sensitive to the fact that many parents/guardians are reluctant to allow the general viewing of their children, or of children in their care, on sites such as YouTube, Facebook, etc.

STANDARD 1

Purpose

Guidelines should be clear as to the reason and purpose of the use of the particular form of technology:

- Provide a clear brief about what is considered appropriate in terms of content and behaviour and use of equipment;
- Provide guidance on acceptable language;
- Provide guidance on storage of information;
- Provide guidance on use of photography: if using an external photographer/videographer, seek confirmation about any publications that will be made by them after the event, and ensure that they have been vetted, have identification and do not have any unsupervised access to children or one-to-one photo sessions at events;
- Images of children should never be taken that capture them in what are commonly understood as 'non-public' activities. Children should be fully and appropriately dressed and related images should always be about the activity and not focused on any individual child;
- Images should not allow the identification of a child or their whereabouts. The full name of a child should not be used;
- Children in vulnerable circumstances (e.g. those in care or victims of any type of abuse) should not be photographed without the consent of those who hold parental responsibility;
- Provide guidance on the use of mobile phones, and especially on the use of mobile phone cameras, which can be easily used for offensive actions without the subject being aware of their use;
- Provide guidance on how to communicate this policy with parents/guardians and young people.

1.9B Guidance on Use of the Internet

It is recognised that the internet is valuable and widely used. Within the Church context, clear guidelines must be developed and inserted into the code of behaviour for each Church activity involving children (Guidance 1.3A).

The following are deemed unacceptable behaviours, and must be avoided in every situation:

- Visiting internet sites that contain offensive, obscene, pornographic or illegal material;
- Using a computer to perpetrate any form of fraud or piracy;
- Using the internet or email systems to send offensive and harassing material to others;
- Using obscene or racist language in computer-assisted communications;
- Publishing defamatory or otherwise false material generated by oneself or by others through social networking;
- Introducing any form of malicious software into the used network;
- Intentionally damaging any information communication technology equipment;
- Using another user's password, or giving that password to a third party.

It is important that the following are made clear to all who use the internet:

- All Church personnel/volunteers/group leaders must be made aware of their responsibility, and sign up to appropriate use of the internet as part of a code of behaviour (Guidance 1.3A);
- Responsibility is about safeguarding children, taking care of oneself, one's co-workers and group leaders;
- Anyone using a shared computer requires their own individual password;
- Training in appropriate and responsible internet and computer use is imperative in order to follow best practice in all activities that concern children, co-workers and volunteers.

1.9C Guidance on Use of Texting and Email

Texting and email are very quick and effective methods of communication for those involved in Church activities usually this does not include adult members of Church personnel contacting young people directly, as contact is usually made via their parents/guardians. However there are certain circumstances where contacting young people directly may be necessary (i.e. in an emergency or on a trip away), any members of Church personnel using this method of communication with young people should ensure appropriate safeguards are in place as there are certain risks associated with the safe and appropriate use of texting and email, which must be managed.

The risks of text and email messaging for children and young people are:

- Inappropriate access to, use of, or sharing of personal details (names, numbers, email addresses);
- Unwanted contact with children/young people from adults text bullying by peers etc.;
- Being sent offensive or otherwise inappropriate materials;
- Grooming for sexual abuse;
- Direct contact and actual abuse.

The risks for adults include:

- Misinterpretation of their communication with young people;
- Potential investigation (internal or by statutory authorities);
- Potential disciplinary action.

Using bulk (or bundled) text and email messaging

A way to minimise the risks above is to use bulk text messages. This is where the same text or email message is sent to several young people involved with a particular activity or group. The advantage of this approach is that it presents fewer opportunities for misuse and abuse than personal, one-to-one texting or emailing arrangements between staff or volunteers and children/young people. Therefore, one-to-one texting or emailing should be strongly discouraged and should only occur in exceptional circumstances. The same applies to emailing young people.

The following guidance is provided to minimise risk to all:

1. Consent must be obtained from young people and their parents/guardians prior to sending young people text or email messages. Parents/guardians should be offered the option to be copied on texts and emails that their child will be sent.
2. The young people's mobile phone numbers or email addresses should be stored safely and securely (Appendix B), with access only available to the specific identified members of Church personnel. The numbers or details should not be shared with anyone else, and should only be used for the purposes of the text and email messaging system regarding the

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.9

Church activity;

3. All text and email messages must be sent via a bundle to a group of young people, i.e. the same standard text message is sent to every member of the group. The text and email messaging system should never be used to send text or email messages on an individual basis (i.e. to just one person);
4. All text and email messages sent must make it clear to the young people receiving them who has sent the message;
5. Young people should not be given the opportunity to text or email back to the system. It should only be used as a one-way communication channel;
6. The text and email messages that are sent must never contain any offensive, abusive or inappropriate language;
7. When this guidance is being provided in relation to Church-related activities, all of the text or email messages sent must be directly related to Church activities. The text or email messaging system and mobile phone numbers must never be used for any other reason or in any other way;
8. All of the text and email messages sent should include a sentence at the bottom that provides young people with the opportunity to unsubscribe from receiving further text and email messages.

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.9

1.9D Guidance on Use of Photography

The use of photos on websites and in other online/hard copy publications can pose direct and indirect risks to children and young people. The Church authority wishing to use images of the children they work with, or are otherwise in contact with, should consider these guidelines.

The Church only has responsibility for safeguarding and the use of photography if it plans to use the photographs for Church purposes. Photographs taken at events organised by family and schools such as Communion, weddings or Confirmations (including when the photographer is employed by the school or family for these occasions) do not fall under the responsibility of the Church, unless they are being taken for Church purposes.

Risks to children

Even if the child's personal identity (full name, address) is kept confidential, other details accompanying the photo can make them identifiable and therefore vulnerable to individuals looking to groom children for abuse. There is also a risk that the photo itself will be used inappropriately by others. Photos can easily be copied and adapted, perhaps to create images of child abuse, which can then find their way on to other websites.

How to minimise risks

- Establish the type of images that appropriately represent the activity and think carefully about any images showing children and young people on the Church website or publication;
- Never supply the full name(s) of the child or children along with the image(s);
- Only use images of children in suitable dress and focused on the activity, rather than one particular child;
- Obtain permission: the permission of parents/guardians and children should always be sought when using an image of a young person. Parents/guardians should be aware of the Church's policy on using children's images and of the way these represent the Church or activity. This must be recorded on a joint consent form for use of images of children. The child's permission to use their image must also be recorded if they are less than eighteen years of age. This ensures that they are aware of the way the image is to be used to represent the activity (1.9A Template 1).

Using photographers to take photographs for Church purposes

The Church often employs photographers, or Church personnel may be asked as part of their role (e.g. Sacramental preparation team or pastoral assistant) to take photographs for certain sacramental or Church activities.

When using a photographer, it is important to do the following:

- Provide a clear brief about what is considered appropriate in terms of content and behaviour;

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.9

- Ascertain if the photographer requires vetting and, if they do, put them through the process;
- Provide the photographer with a form of identification that must be worn at all times;
- Do not allow unsupervised access to children or one-to-one photo sessions at events;
- Do not allow photo sessions to take place away from the event, for instance, at a young person's home;
- Inform parents/guardians and children that a photographer will be in attendance, and ensure that they consent to both the taking and publication of photos or films;
- Seek confirmation on the extent of any publications that will be made by the photographer after the event;
- Clarify in writing who owns the images taken by the photographer and how they will be edited, used, stored and destroyed.

If parents/guardians and parishioners are intending to photograph or video at an organised event, they should also be made aware of what is permitted and what is not.

Responding to concerns

Children and parents/guardians should be informed that if they have any concerns regarding inappropriate or intrusive photography, these should be reported to the Church authority to ensure that any reported concerns are dealt with in the same way as any other child protection or child safeguarding issue.

1.9E Guidance on Use of CCTV and Webcams

The increasing use of CCTV and the internet has wide implications, and unless such systems are used with proper care and consideration they can give rise to concern that the individual's 'private space' is being unreasonably invaded or eroded. Each Church body must have an appropriate data protection policy in place that covers the use of webcam and CCTV images.

Section 2 (1) c (iii) of the Data Protection Act requires that data are 'adequate, relevant and not excessive' and fit for purpose for which they are collected.

If a data controller is satisfied that it can justify the installation of a CCTV system, it must carefully consider what it will be used for and if these uses are deemed reasonable in the circumstances.

Security of premises or other property is probably the most common use of a CCTV system and, as such, will typically be intended to capture images of intruders, or of individuals damaging property or removing goods without permission.

Using a CCTV to constantly monitor employees is highly intrusive and would need to be justified by reference to special circumstances. The retail sector is one example where there is evidence to suggest that money or goods could be removed without authorisation.

The location of CCTV is a key consideration, and its use within areas where individuals would have a reasonable expectation of privacy, e.g. toilets and changing rooms, would be difficult to justify.

Cameras placed so as to record external areas should be positioned in such a way as to prevent or minimise recording of passers-by, or of another person's private property.

Having acknowledged the positive and sometimes negative aspect of CCTV, each Church body should draw up a policy and guidelines in order to maximise the benefit of such installations and minimise the possibility of a person's privacy being infringed.

The following should be considered:

- If CCTV cameras are in place, it is important to have very obvious signs informing Church personnel, parishioners, volunteers and the public that this is the case;
- All uses of CCTV must be appropriate and fit for a specific purpose. As CCTV infringes the privacy of persons captured in the images, there must be a genuine reason for installing such a system;
- If installing such a system, the purpose for doing so must be displayed in a prominent place and preferably behind a locked noticeboard where it will not be damaged or removed. In a church, an obvious place would be within the porch and at all entrances;
- Images captured should be retained for a maximum of twenty-eight days (see Section 2 [1] c [iv] of the Data Protection Act). An exception for a longer duration would be where images need to be retained specifically in the context of an investigation;
- Tapes should be stored in a secure environment, along with a log of access to tapes. Access should be restricted to authorised personnel. Similar measures should be in place when using disc storage, with the creation of automatic logs of access to the images.

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.9

Web broadcasting

There are a number of data protection issues that must be met in relation to broadcasting on the internet. The policy should be reflective of these:

- Recording people via a web camera, and the subsequent displaying of such images over the internet, is regarded as the processing of personal data. It is imperative that it must be done with the consent of the individual;
- Camera shots (images) of the congregation should be wide shots, minimising the possibility of easily identifying individuals with close-up images;
- Signs should be placed at all entrances to the church and in other prominent locations, informing those attending ceremonies or visiting the church that web cameras are in operation;
- If the Church activity being recorded involves children (for example as altar servers, ministers of the word, choirs etc) then their written consent and that of their parents/guardians is required.
- Service providers should be able to give regular and accurate information regarding the number of people who actually log in online to view. This information is important for future planning and assessing the value of web broadcasting;
- If connecting to the parish broadband, ensure that the broadband package has unlimited usage for uploading, or else there is a risk of incurring significant costs from the provider;
- It is imperative that live broadcasts can be terminated to stop transmission. This should be done by accessing the control panel of the system. If this is not accessible by the priest from the altar, someone should be delegated to break transmission if required.

1.10A Guidance on Ensuring All Clerics/ Religious, who are Members of the Church Body and are Ministering with Children in an External Organisation/Church Body, Agree to Follow Effective Safeguarding Practice

It is important that where clerics/religious are ministering with children in an external organisation or Church body, the Church authority must have agreement from the external organisation or Church body that effective safeguarding policies and procedures are in place.

To do this, the Church authority should have written agreements in place for every cleric/religious who is ministering with children in an external organisation or Church body (1.10A Template 1). This agreement should include:

- That the organisation for whom the member is ministering has safeguarding policies and procedures in place;
- That the member ministering in this external organisation understands that while they are working for that organisation, the safeguarding policies and procedures must be adhered to.

1.10B Guidance on International Child Safeguarding Policy and Procedures

This guidance provides an overview of the main principles that should be contained in a child safeguarding policy, for those Church bodies working in other countries outside of Ireland. The broad principles are outlined in this guidance which are then replicated in 1.10B Template 1.

1. Begin the Child Safeguarding Policy by stating your commitment to safeguarding children which will be based on agreed principles.

There are a number of Principles which should underpin a child safeguarding policy, irrespective of geographic boundaries. These are :

- Gospel Values – Children had a special place in the heart of Jesus (Luke 18:17) and therefore there is a sacred obligation on the Church to ensure that children are welcomed, cherished and protected in a manner consistent with gospel values and children's central place in the life of the church. It would be helpful if reference to the charism of the Church body is included here.
- Children's Rights, National and Canon Law – The UNCRC outlines the 42 rights to be implemented by those who have signed and ratified the convention (including the Holy See and most countries across the world). This section should also include reference to local and legislation which safeguards children; and Canon law requirements of the Holy See including reference to grave delicts against children and norms issued by the Holy See.

2. Identify what is abuse

- In line with canon and civil law of the country

3. Outline the commitments Church personnel should honour

In Ireland the following commitments are included:

- Caring for children by creating environments which are safe (this includes codes of behaviour and the safety of children in the physical planning and development of projects (e.g. open spaces, etc.)
- Reporting allegations of abuse to the statutory authorities (police and social services). This may include information on what to do, if it is unsafe to report to equivalent authorities in each country.
- Caring for complaints of abuse through pastoral support and counselling.
- Caring for those who have been accused through offering counselling, but also by ensuring that risk is assessed and managed including taking appropriate canonical action if necessary to restrict the respondent's ministry.
- Caring for others affected by providing training for all members in relation to good safeguarding practice; offering support; having good communication about your policy and procedures (newsletters, resources etc).

4. Set Safeguarding Standards

- These will largely be based on the commitments above. The standards of Ireland can be used as an example these can be viewed at www.safeguarding.ie
- If there are two or more Church bodies ministering, identify who is accountable and what policies will be followed.

5. Get agreement from all members to follow standards

It is important that all members read and understand the policy of the Church body. There should be a personal commitment to following these through the signing of an agreement similar to Guidance 5.1A Template 1.

6. Put Training and induction in place

All Church personnel must have an understanding of what constitutes child abuse and what to do to prevent abuse as well as how to respond if there is a concern.

There must be clear statements about what is acceptable and not acceptable when ministering with children within the congregation.

7. Set out Governance arrangements

- Superior General accountabilities
- Local Leader responsibilities
- Review and evaluation
- State how often you will do refresher training with staff
- Ensure that safeguarding practice is mainstreamed across all project, programme and organisational reviews

In carrying out this ministry we recognise and uphold the dignity and rights of all children, are committed to ensuring their safety and well-being, and will work in partnership with parents/guardians to do this. We recognise each child as a gift from God, and we value and encourage the participation of children in all activities that enhance their spiritual, physical, emotional, intellectual and social development.

All our members and those who volunteer and work with us under our authority (including clergy, religious, staff and volunteers) have a responsibility to safeguard children through promoting their welfare, health and development in a safe and caring environment that supports their best interests and prevents abuse.

Principles

In developing and implementing the Child Safeguarding Policy, this Church body is guided by the following foundations:

1. Gospel

Children have a key place in the heart of Jesus who said: 'Whoever does not receive the kingdom of God like a child shall not enter it' (Luke 18:17). This places a sacred obligation on the Church to ensure that children are welcomed, cherished and protected in a manner consistent with their central place in the life of the Church.

2. Children's Rights, National Law and Canon Law

The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) outlines the forty-two fundamental rights to be implemented in national law by signatories to the Convention (this includes the Holy See and [INSERT NAME OF COUNTRY OF MINISTRY]). Full realisation of these rights will ensure that children will be 'brought up in a spirit of peace, dignity, tolerance, freedom, equality and solidarity', whilst respecting the cultural identity of each child.

[INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] as part of our charism [INSERT REFERENCE TO CHARISM OF THE CHURCH BODY] commits to upholding our obligations under the following:

[INSERT RELEVANT CHILD CARE LEGISLATION, VETTING LEGISLATION, CRIMINAL JUSTICE LEGISLATION AND ASSOCIATED GUIDANCE OF COUNTRY OF MINISTRY].

[INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] also recognises the requirements under canon law which states [INSERT RELEVANT CANON LAW INFORMATION].

Commitments

Together with the Principles outlined above, this Church body, as part of the Catholic Church, commits to:

1. Mandatory reporting

Each of us has a duty to notify the statutory authorities of suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations that a child is being or has been abused:

- physically
- emotionally
- sexually
- through neglect

Suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations may relate to possible abuse by a member of Church personnel, but they can also relate to incidents in the child's family, or elsewhere in the community.

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.10

2. Caring for the welfare of all children and the adults who work with them

Measures to create and maintain environments that are safe for children, that prevent abuse and that create nurturing, caring conditions within the Church for children and the adults who work with them, will continue to be strengthened and reviewed. This will be done through training, support, communications and quality assurance

3. Responding appropriately to child protection suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations

Anyone who brings any suspicion, concern, knowledge or allegation of current or past abuse of a child to the notice of the Church will be responded to sensitively, respectfully, actively and in a timely manner, in line with statutory child protection procedures and Church requirements.

All suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations that reach the threshold for reporting to the civil authorities (apart from those received in the Sacrament of Reconciliation¹) will be reported through the appointed Church representative. This will be done irrespective of the status of the person (lay, cleric or religious) who is suspected of having been abusive to a child. If the allegation relates to a lay member of [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY], in addition to notifying the statutory authorities, the allegation must be reported to the lead person in the [INSERT NAME OF CONGREGATION].

If the allegation relates to a cleric or religious from Ireland, in addition to notifying the statutory authorities, the allegation must also be reported to the Church authority and the National Board for Safeguarding Children in the Catholic Church in Ireland.

All Church personnel will co-operate with the statutory authorities in all cases.

4. Caring pastorally for complainants and other affected persons

Those who have suffered child abuse by Church personnel will receive a compassionate and just response, and will be offered appropriate pastoral care, counselling and support as they seek to rebuild their lives.

An appropriate pastoral response to the family, parish, congregation or order and to the wider community will be provided, with due regard to the right of privacy of those directly involved, and to the administration of justice.

Caring pastorally for respondents and other affected persons

1. The sacramental seal is inviolable; therefore it is absolutely forbidden for a confessor to betray in any way a penitent in words or in any manner and for any reason, Code of Canon Law, c.983.1, in Catholic Church (1983), The Code of Canon Law: Latin-English Edition (Washington, DC: Canon Law Society of America).

STANDARD 1

CREATING AND MAINTAINING SAFE ENVIRONMENTS GUIDANCE FOR INDICATOR 1.10

5. Caring pastorally for respondents and other affected persons

This [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] in its response to suspicions, concerns, knowledge or allegations of child sexual abuse will respect the rights under civil law and canon law of an accused cleric or religious or other Church personnel. A legal presumption of innocence will be maintained during the statutory and Church inquiry processes. As the processes develop, additional assessment, therapy and support services may be offered to the respondent.

The [INSERT TITLE OF CHURCH AUTHORITY] will take responsibility for ensuring that any cleric or religious who is considered to constitute a danger to children is managed according to a risk management plan.

All requisite steps will be taken to restore the good name and reputation of anyone who has been wrongly accused of abusing a child.

Respondents belong to families and diocesan or religious communities. The [INSERT TITLE OF CHURCH AUTHORITY] will be mindful of the need to provide support to members of families and communities affected by the respondent's changed situation.

Scope of the Policy

This policy applies to all members, and those who work with [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] (lay staff and volunteers) who are required to comply with it. Full understanding of and adherence to this policy should lead to a deepening in the understanding of, and respect for, the rights of children and young people to participate as people of faith in the life of the Church.

The care and protection of children involved in Church activities is the responsibility of the whole Church, and is a requirement that applies regardless of the nature of the Church activities in which children are involved. Everyone who participates in the life of the Church has a role to play in creating an environment in which children can develop and be safe.

Putting the Policy into Action

The [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] will implement this policy by ensuring that all our ministry and activities comply with the following:

1. Creating and Maintaining Safe Environments.
2. Procedures for Responding to Child Protection Suspicions, Concerns, Knowledge or Allegations.
3. Care and Support for the Complainant.
4. Care and Management of the Respondent.
5. Care and Support for others.

- Clear codes of behaviour when conducting ministry with children which sets out that it is never acceptable to touch a child in a sexual way; to engage a child in inappropriate conversation; to view child pornography; to physically assault a child etc.
- Guidance on the vetting of priests, religious, paid staff and volunteers

2. Procedures for Responding to Child Protection Allegations

In line with canon law, a child is defined as anyone under the age of 18 for the purposes of any ministry provided by [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY].

Children can be abused in the following ways:

(INSERT LOCAL DEFINITIONS OF ABUSE)

Any form of sexual behaviour with a minor, whether child or adolescent, is always sexual abuse. It is both immoral and criminal in both civil and canon law. This includes abuse of children through digital media.

When ministering with [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] any abuse of a child will not be tolerated and will be responded to by reporting to the statutory authorities and disciplinary action.

Physical abuse will not be used to discipline a child while the child is in the care of [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY].

The paramount consideration in all matters relating to children is their safety and protection from all forms of abuse.

To create and maintain a safe environment, [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] must respond effectively to ensure all allegations and suspicions of abuse are reported, both within the Church and to statutory authorities. This responsibility to report is mandatory, and the only exception to this rule is the receipt of any information by a cleric under what is termed as the sacramental Seal of Confession. If it is not possible or safe to report to the Police, internal Church action must be transparent and have at its core a focus on the safety of children. Abuse of children is a crime in civil and in canon law and must not be covered up in any way, but addressed through a senior member who has the authority to ensure that the alleged perpetrator does not have access to children.

The following action should be taken when an allegation is received:

STANDARD 1

A report is made to the Ordinary who will:

- ensure it is reported to the statutory authorities
- make a decision about removing the accused from public ministry
- ensure support is offered to the complainant
- ensure support is offered to the accused

Following police inquiry, if the matter relates to a cleric or religious an inquiry under canon law should be initiated. If there is a case to answer in canon law, the case should be referred to the CDF (ordained clerics) or to the Superior General (non ordained religious).

Following inquiries by the statutory authorities, if the matter relates to a lay person a disciplinary inquiry should be activated. If there is a finding against the lay person, consideration should be given to dismissing the person.

4. Care of Victims

We [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] wish to respond with compassion and understanding attitude to anyone who informs us of an allegation of child abuse against any of our members, staff or volunteers. We know that it takes courage and confidence to come forward. We are aware that the experiences and responses of victims can vary and that cultural values need to be given consideration here.

Victims may often find it difficult to trust those in positions of authority or pastoral care and even to believe or trust in God. They may go through a long period of silence, denial and repression. Others may even refuse to believe the victims, thereby reinforcing the sense of guilt and shame.

The intensity of the effects of abuse on the victims will vary. Some of the factors involved are the age and personality of the victim, the relationship with the offender, the duration and frequency of the abuse, the particular form of the abuse, the degree of force used and the threats used to compel secrecy.

A compassionate response to the alleged victim - the one bringing the complaint - must be the first priority in all cases of abuse. If the victim is a child, make sure you meet them with a trusted adult (parent/guardian). Take care when meeting with children who disclose abuse as you may not have the appropriate skills to respond, consider consulting with social services.

You should:

- Treat the victim with respect.
- Listen to the victim.
- Treat each case as unique.
- It is advisable to have another person present and invite the victim to have a support person for his or her assistance during the initial interview.
- Offer pastoral support and spiritual assistance.
- Make a record of what the victim tells you advise what you will do with the information (report to [INSERT TITLE OF CHURCH AUTHORITY], statutory authorities etc).

If you are unsure of how to proceed, seek advice from the Conference of Major Superiors in your area.

4. Care and Management of Respondents

Those who have been accused of abusing a child are presumed innocent until guilt is either admitted or determined by due process. However, a member [INSERT NAME OF CHURCH BODY] (or staff or volunteer) accused of abuse must step aside from external ministry while the matter is pending in order to avoid minimising the accusation. Nonetheless, it is to be clearly understood that the person is on leave and that no admission of guilt is implied by this fact.

Any investigation by the statutory authorities must be allowed to proceed prior to any internal church or disciplinary investigation. Following conclusion of the statutory authorities investigation the following will be initiated by the [INSERT TITLE OF THE CHURCH AUTHORITY]:

- If the allegation is against a cleric or religious the preliminary investigation under canon law will proceed. This will include:
 - The appointment of an independent person to interview the respondent; the victim and gather any corroborating evidence.
 - A report will be drafted for the Ordinary who will determine if there is a case to answer. The Ordinary may seek external advice.
 - If there is no case to answer the respondent will be returned to ministry
 - If there is a case to answer further canonical action will proceed:
 - For ordained clerics the CDF will be informed
 - For Vowed Religious the Superior General will be informed
 - Action in relation to restricting the respondents ministry on a permanent basis will be determined by the canonical process in consultation with the CDF/Superior General
- In the case of allegations against members who are deceased it may not be possible to establish the credibility of the allegations. However, in all cases pastoral care, counselling and support will be offered to the person who makes the allegation to the extent possible.
- In the case of allegations against former members although the Congregation is no longer responsible for them, the allegations will be reported to the Civil authorities and efforts will be made to provide records to establish if there is any information that can be corroborate them. In all cases pastoral care, counselling and support will be offered to the person who makes the allegation to the extent possible.
- The accused has a right to legal advice.
- Remind the accused to have no contact with the alleged victim.
- Therapy should be offered to the member
- If there is a case to answer a safety plan should be put in place which seeks to reduce risk to children. Care needs to be given to the placement of the respondent (in a safe place, not near a school or near a place where minors congregate). In most cases, some type of supervision will be required.

STANDARD 1

- Offer the accused spiritual assistance.
- Determine who information should be shared with e.g. if the respondent is in ministry in a Diocese it may be required that the Bishop be informed of the allegation. Have due regard to data protection legislation.
- Put in writing the restrictions on the Member.

5. Care for Others

We acknowledge that the wider community is also affected by sexual abuse. We should strive to offer pastoral care and support in providing psychological and spiritual healing of those persons who, as well as the victims, have been seriously affected by incidents of abuse. The effect on the family of the victim can be profound. Disclosure can be very difficult for the victim and the wider family/community and we should guard against any rejection of the victim rather than facing reality. Parents can feel guilty that they did not protect their child more effectively.

Therefore, we recommend as far as possible that truthful explanation is given to families affected, communities affected, confreres and co-workers of the place where the respondent ministered. A meeting between the [INSERT TITLE OF THE CHURCH AUTHORITY] and those affected can be of great healing to all concerned.

There will be times when it is essential to share information e.g. in relation to a safety plan so as to reduce risk to children. Each case should be considered on its own merits.

It is possible that in sharing information that other allegations might emerge.

At all stages, whilst respecting an individual's right to privacy and his good name, you must avoid any appearance of a cover-up or any type of mitigation or denial of truth. In all cases be mindful of the data protection rights and confidentiality of all parties concerned: follow civil laws regarding what can or cannot be divulged and what must be divulged.

6. Implementation of Safeguarding Policy

The [INSERT TITLE OF CHURCH AUTHORITY] has overall responsibility for Child Safeguarding, but has appointed the following to manage all aspects of child safeguarding [INSERT NAME AND ROLE]
